Sick Leave Abuse Is Target Of Manager's Plan

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Police and fire department union leaders have been publicly critical of the town manager's budget-cutting plans for the public safety departments — and the manager fired back Monday night with an eight-page report defending his proposals.

The manager's chief target is sick leave abuse: The town could save a total of $45,200 a year just by bringing sick leave within reason, he maintained.

Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark told the selectmen that his proposal to trim $30,000 each from the police and fire budgets, in an effort to live with Proposition 2½, attacks "waste and inefficiency" within the departments.

The budget cuts will not endanger public safety, he emphasized.

"Both the municipal unions and management know the issues are more nearly economic in content than they are related to public safety," Clark wrote in his report to the selectmen.

The manager recently recommended that police and fire overtime hours be cut by not filling every position left vacant by sick or vacationing officers, and that personnel increases planned last year be put on the shelf.

The selectmen, who offered little comment on the manager's report Monday, expressed some resistance to delaying the personnel increases when Clark originally offered that suggestion.

Zeroing in on sick leave in the public safety departments, Clark said the average police officer takes 11 sick days every year, and the average firefighter, 7.8 a year.

Public Works employees each take an average of 12 sick days a year, he added.

The manager explained that town hall employees each take an average of 4.5 sick days every year—concluding that "five days may be more reasonable" for public safety employees.

By cutting back to five sick days for each employee per year, the town could shave $24,000 from the police budget, and $21,000 from the fire budget—nearly meeting Clark's $30,000 target figure for each department.

"I know, and the unions know, that there

Theatre Revisions Made To Appease Nearby Residents

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Fewer seats, a separate entrance, and police to direct traffic were among the solutions offered by the developer of Shawsheen Plaza Monday night, to calm Shawsheen residents' fears about a proposed twin cinema at the plaza.

"If I thought this addition would hurt the center, I would be the first one to say, 'What do we need a theatre for?'" developer Gordon Bloom told a group of Shawsheen residents who appeared before the selectmen. "We have a big stake in (the plaza.)"

The residents' concerns center around a twin cinema, originally planned to seat 456, and ten new stores that will be built in a 25,555-square foot addition to the plaza. The existing buildings occupy 71,873 square feet, according to Building Inspector Sam DeSalvo.

Joyce Rossitto, 363 North Main St., said traffic at the plaza is already "horrendous" on evenings and weekends, and would become worse with the addition of the new stores and theatre.

"I'm going to be waiting in that line of people going to the movies, just to go shopping," she told the selectmen. "After a while I won't go to the plaza anymore — I'll go to North Andover and elsewhere to shop. Then the plaza will lose its character. It will no longer be a shopping center — it will be an entertainment center."

She added that there would not be enough parking spaces within the plaza, and that police and fire vehicles would be impeded by increased traffic in the area.

"We are creating this monster in town," Rossitto predicted. "We are not against the theatre, but put it in another location, please."

DeSalvo explained that under the town's zoning bylaws, there will be enough parking spaces in the plaza to serve the theatre and new stores: There will be 568 spaces, he said, while only 519 are required.

Bloom explained that the theatre will not be located next to the Andover Jade restaurant, but in the far right corner of the lot — "as far away from the other buildings as possible" — near the Taylor Rental Center.

The developer plans to add an entranceway directly to the theatre, Bloom said, where the Fotomat kiosk is located. "You will get a lot of people using that entrance, away from the main entrance and exit," he suggested.

He added that most theatregoers will probably park as close to the theatre as possible, away from the shopping area.

In addition, the developer reported that theatre-owner David DeFillipo has agreed to reduce the seating in his theatre from 456 to 400, with 200 seats on each side of the twin cinema.

The selectmen granted a preliminary license for a 456-seat theatre to DeFillipo earlier this month.

Bloom also pointed out that neighborhood residents "will not be seeing 400 cars tramping in. The times when you have a Kramer vs. Kramer (one of last year's most popular films) are, unfortunately, not that often. On the average,

Miss Mackie West Point Nominee

Anne R. Mackie, 17, the daughter of Wilfred J. and Anne Mackie of 9 Nancy Circle, has been nominated as a candidate for the United States Military Academy by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

Mackie, a senior at Andover High School, is one of 10 students from across the state who have been nominated for competitive appointments to the academy at West Point; there is currently one vacancy.

A high honors student, Mackie is a member of the indoor and outdoor girls' track team and one of the AHS Indians.

The senior said she hopes to be appointed to the service academy because "it stands for so much you've got to be able to make the grade both academically and physically. I think I can do well there, and that I would really enjoy a career in the Army."

If selected for the military academy, Mackie would enter in July, and graduate with the Class of 1985.

"It is very difficult to select among the many qualified candidates who have applied through my office for service academy nominations," notes Senator Kennedy. "All of the residents of Massachusetts can be enormously proud of these candidates who, insuring our nation, will bring honor to our Commonwealth."

Committee Prepares For 2½

School Chairman Elaine Viehmann Tuesday night said she had appointed Committeemen Donald Robb and Joseph Finn to work with a Finance Committee subcommittee in budget preparations, with Prop. 2½ in mind.

Later on in the meeting, she named Committeeman Dick Neal to work with the school administration over vacation, to come up with some priority areas for cutting back the budget, when the implications of 2½ are better known.

No Hurry To Fill Positions

Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert told the school committee Tuesday night he won't be in any rush to fill the position of coordinator of the AIRS (Andover Individualized Reading System) dissemination project.

Esther Campbell recently resigned from that federally-paid position, and Seifert said they may not replace her until they get further indications of what might happen to the funding under President-elect Ronald Reagan.

AIRS was chosen by the federal Right To Read program to be packaged and made available to other communities.

Seifert said they have also put a freeze on filling the newly created youth advisor position, until they get a better handle on Prop. 2½.

New System In Operation At Library

A new automated cataloging and ordering system at Memorial Hall Library will save the town $3,000 this year by eliminating the need for some part-time clerical help, the town manager told the selectmen Monday night.

Library Director Nancy Jacobson has secured a federal grant to fund the automated system, Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark explained, as part of her efforts to improve library services while lowering costs.

While it eliminates some part-time help, the change will also place increased responsibilities on one employee, the manager said — which runs contrary to the selectmen's position against mid-year job reclassifications.

However, Clark noted, the reclassification will save $3,000 at a time when the town needs to shave $700,000 from its budget to make up for lost excise tax revenues under Proposition 2½. The system will save an estimated $7,000 next year, he added.

"This represents another way of our reducing costs without reducing the quality of services in implementation of Proposition 2½," the manager reported.

Liquor Policy Changed

The board of selectmen Monday night approved two changes in their liquor policy, which they use as the basis for administering liquor licenses in town.

In response to a recent request by Selectman Susan Poore that the board be notified of license violations more promptly, the town manager suggested that he bring notices of complaints to the board as soon as he receives them. The board would then set a hearing date.

In addition, the manager recommended that the town clerk be designated the clerk to the licensing board.

The selectmen approved the changes with a three to zero vote, with Chairman James Abramson abstaining. Selectman Edward Harris was not present.

Hospital Program Wins Award

Bon Secours Hospital nursing competency certification program entitled "Clear Cut Competency" recently won a Blue Robbon Award in a New England-wide hospital competition sponsored by the New England Hospital Assembly.

"Clear Cut Competency" was one of 15 award-winning programs chosen in the New England states and one of seven awarded in Massachusetts. This is the third winning entry for the hospital in the last five years.

Other hospital programs to win awards in the past include the Artemas W. Stearns Pediatric Health Center and the Multivisual Community Health Education Program sponsored by the Community Relations and Education Departments. The hospital's "Healthy Issues" series received an honorable mention in 1979.

According to program coordinators Janet Johnston, R.N.C., B.A., maternal and child health coordinator and Anne Marie Bularzik, B.S.N., R.N., staff educator, the certification program was designed and developed by the hospital's Nursing and Education Departments jointly, under the direction of John Warren, director of education. The program provides participants with tangible proof of professional competency and capabilities on various levels of expertise. It also promotes individual self-evaluation, professional development and growth, and maintains high energy levels of performance.

According to Maureen Guglielmino, director of community relations, the program was submitted to the Blue Ribbon judges because of its unique characteristics and the overwhelmingly positive response it has already had from the nursing staff members who completed the program. "We were also aware that this program is one that can be easily adapted by other hospitals and institutions both regionally and nationally," she added.

The program will be featured as an exhibit at the 1981 New England Hospital Assembly held March 30 and 31, and April 1. More than 15,000 people pass through this exhibit held at the Prudential Center in Boston annually. This year's display will include a slide-tape presentation about the program as well as additional information concerning the actual development and implementation of the program. The exhibit will be coordinated by representatives of the Community Relations, Education, and nursing staffs.

Leaders Club Offers Services

Looking for a baby sitter or someone to mind the house for a while? Need someone to clean out the garage, basement, or attic? Perhaps shovelling snow, raking leaves, mowing lawns or general yard work is what you have in mind.

The Andover-North Andover YMCA Leaders Club, comprised of youth volunteer members aged 12-18, is available for various jobs around the house at a nominal cost. As a referral program, the YMCA is willing to notify leaders of possible service prospects and make arrangements to show up on a given date and time.

Anyone wishing to take advantage of this opportunity, should contact Ed Neill, Club Advisor, at the Y.

Parental Splitups A Problem

The increasing number of parents who are splitting up is causing more and more problems for the schools, Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert told the school committee Tuesday night.

But, he said, schools "aren't going to get in the middle of a family dispute," and parents who are splitting "will have to settle their problems outside of school."

Primarily, he said, the problems are of a logistical communications nature. Sometimes, he said, an estranged parent will complain that he or she didn't know about a parent conference or didn't receive a report card or whatever.

Seifert said the schools will continue to adhere to their policy of calling the "primary number" listed with the school. If there is no response at that number, he said, they will go on to the "emergency number" the parents have also provided.

Seifert said unless they have a statement from the courts, the schools have no right to block out one parent.

But, he said, "we don't think we should have to notify people all over the place."

School Chairman Elaine Viehmann said she had had one parent asking to have a conference with a teacher after the other parent already had. She said she had even been asked if they could send out two report cards.

Seifert noted that problems are greatest where parents are in the process of breaking up, before a legal settlement has been made and custody awarded to one or the other.

Electric Crews Work In Storm

A power loss in the Shawsheen area Monday morning put crews from the Massachusetts Electric Co. on a difficult repair job working through the cold and snow through Wednesday.

A feeder line in an underground cable was the primary cause of the outage which effected some 600 customers, including stores in the Shawsheen Plaza Monday beginning around 11:15 a.m.

Finding the trouble and transferring the power supply to other lines resulting in restoration of power in about one to two hours, revealed trouble in two other cables.

Mass. Electric crews remained at the underground cable system making the necessary repairs through Wednesday on around-the-clock basis.

To Use Town Resources

5 THE TOWNSMAN, DECEMBER 18, 1980

Richard Lundgren of Village Landscaping, 18 Elm st., will continue to use town resources in his efforts to buy Turner Farm on South Main Street.

The selectmen Monday night approved the landscaper's request to continue consulting with the town manager and the Community Development and Planning staff while working out a strategy for acquiring the 32-acre farm.

Lundgren would like the town to join the state in acquiring the development rights to the farm, under the state's agricultural preservation restrictions act. By acquiring the development rights, while Lundgren purchased the farm from current owner Harvey Turner, Jr., the town and state could assure that the farm will be preserved.

The purchase, however, may carry a $100,000 price tag — the state has not yet given Lundgren a final valuation — and would require town meeting approval.

Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark pointed out that the town will be planning next year's budget under the shadow of Proposition 2½, "and the dollars are very limited. There is very little money available."

But Lundgren hopes to show that it may be in the town's best economic interests to preserve the farm, rather than let it be sold for development as single- or multi-family housing.

Clark explained that Lundgren could show "the difference between the cost of acquiring the development rights, versus the cost of supporting a development on the property."

Town staffers would have to help the landscaper come up with the necessary figures, the manager said, such as the number of houses that could be built on the land, what it would cost the town to support those homes, and the amount of tax revenues the homes would generate for the town.

"It is not an enormous amount of work" for the staff, Clark added.

Selectmen Chairman James Abramson pointed out that "the net cost to the town (of acquiring the rights) could be zero. Under those circumstances, it is worth it to proceed in working with the town staff."

Lundgren would be required to fund the balance of the purchase price, that part which would not be funded by the town, the chairman added.

Earlier this fall the landscaper told the board he would like to operate his landscaping business from the farm and live on the property, as well as replant the apple orchard.

Top Award

Yankee Lady was the top award recipient of the annual Andover Center Merchants Christmas window display contest. Marion Carpentier is shown with the decorations which were chosen for first prize by shoppers who deposited their votes in Andover banks. The store will receive a certificate from ACM, a division of the Andover Chamber of Commerce, for its efforts which are aimed at having local merchants present a festive atmosphere in the downtown area during the Christmas season.

Scouts Open Center

Sheila T. Broderick, executive director of the Spar and Spindle Girl Scout Council, has announced the opening of a service center in Chelmsford.

The service center is a satellite office of the Spar and Spindle Girls Scout Council's main office in Danvers. It will provide administrative and program support services for girls, troops and adult volunteers of the Merrimack Valley communities.

"We are very happy to be a part of the community", said Elaine Bloom, field director. "We are here to serve everyone who is interested in Girl Scout activities in the communities of the Merrimack Valley."

The service center is located at 11 North Road in Chelmsford.

The Spar and Spindle Girl Scout Council represents approximately 10,000 girls from Northeastern Massachusetts and Southern New Hampshire.

Who Brings Gifts

Jolly Old Santa Claus isn't the only one delivering gifts at Christmastime. In Scandinavia, they are brought by little gnomelike creatures called "Yule Men," who are said to live hidden in the attic all year long. In Italy they are left on Epiphany Eve (Jan. 6) by a wrinkled old woman called Fefana, whose arrival is announced by a bell. The Magi, the three wise men, bring gifts to Mexican children who, instead of hanging stockings, place their shoes on the windowsill.

A huge Christmas candle was burned in medieval Europe to celebrate festivities each night until Twelfth Night.

Sen. Wall Offers Thoughts

He arrived late, entering the library meeting room as a discussion between the selectmen and local legislators was already underway.

But Senator William X. Wall declined to sit in the front of the room with the lawmakers when Representative Gerald Cohen stood and beckoned to him.

"No, no, I'll sit back here with the poor people," the veteran senator said. He apologized for his lateness, explaining that he had been tied up at the state house as this year's legislative session winds down to an end.

Wall, defeated by Patricia McGovern in November, will not be returning to the state house next year.

Waterways Improving

Massachusetts waterways have shown more improvement over the past four years than any other state in New England, according to a report from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

Paul G. Keough, director of EPA's Office of Public Awareness, explained that his agency's end of the year report of environmental quality in New England shows that 45 percent of the Bay State's 1,715 major river miles are now suitable for swimming.

"At the present time, Massachusetts has the lowest percentage of major river mileage in New England listed as being suitable for fishing and swimming. But the figures show a 13 percent improvement since 1978 and a 25 percent improvement in the past four years. This is by far, the highest rate of improvement in the region," Mr. Keough explained.

The EPA official said the agency report projects that by 1983 nearly two-thirds of Massachusetts' major stream mileage will meet the fishable swimmable goal.

"Massachusetts has come a long way in its water restoration effort. It is certainly a dramatic turnabout when portions of such once-heavily polluted rivers as the Merrimack, the Nashua, the Connecticut, Chicopee, Blackstone, and Westfield are listed as being suitable for swimming. These rivers may not be fully restored but substantial progress will be realized," he added.

Veterans

A new Veterans Administration publication, "Veterans Benefits for Older Americans", is available through VA regional offices and veterans service organizations throughout New England.

The free pamphlet highlights eligibility for VA medical care, compensation and pension programs, and burial benefits. It includes a quick reference inventory for listing a veteran's VA file number and other information for use in case of an emergency, according to a VA spokesman.

To receive the pamphlet, write, visit or telephone the nearest VA regional office. The address and toll-free telephone number may be found in the white pages of local telephone directories under "U.S. Government."

But Wall offered his own thoughts on the issues at hand when the legislators and selectmen concluded their discussion.

On opening a youth detention center: "I fought viciously to keep the training schools open, to save our youth from being integrated into the prison system. That's your answer—open them up. They did a good job."

On eliminating county government: "Our forefathers thought it was pretty good. Eliminate it, and Andover and other communities will have to pick up the tab."

And on modifying Proposition 2½: "If you are aggrieved, call upon the governor and have him file a special message to the legislature. But first, you've got to try it, and you haven't done that. Try it. Don't forget what the people said."

The longtime senator said he regretted not being prepared to discuss the issues more fully, but explained that he had not received an invitation to the meeting.

However, the selectmen's secretary had assured him that an invitation was mailed to him, Senator Wall said.

"I'd like to thank Senator Wall for being our senator for so many years," Cohen said, prompting the townspeople meeting before the selectmen to break into applause.

And before he left, the senator tossed a bouquet of his own: "I think you are the best selectmen in the state," he told the board. "and I've been around."

Water Allowed For Domestic Use Only

THE TOWNSMAN, DECEMBER 18, 1980

As expected, the selectmen Monday night approved the sale of a domestic water supply by North Reading to Mohammed Khusro of 181-182 Jenkins Road. The terms of the sale were recently negotiated by officials from Andover and North Reading.

Selectman Susan Poore opposed the sale in the three to one vote.

"There is a continuing concern among residents in the area that there is a commerciality of use out there (on Khusro's property)," Poore said.

Khusro's neighbors have charged him with operating a commercial riding stable on his two Jenkins Road lots, which are zoned for residential use.

However, last spring former Building Inspector William Meins said he found no evidence of a zoning violation on Khusro's property.

But Poore said she had been mailed a copy of an advertisement in a recent issue of a riding magazine, advertising a stable on Khusro's land.

"This is at odds with the zoning," she said, "and I am concerned with the effect on the neighborhood."

Selectmen Chairman James Abramson asked Building Inspector Sam DeSalvo to continue monitoring the use of Khusro's land.

As part of its agreement to sell Khusro water, North Reading has stipulated that the water must be used for domestic purposes only, and not for the horses stabled on Khusro's property.

Ice Capades Due At Garden

Ice Capades welcomes the new decade when its newest extravaganza, "Light Up The Ice," opens on Friday, Dec. 26, at the Boston Garden, for 19 unforgettable performances through Sunday, Jan. 4.

Topping the bill in a dazzling array of skaters are special guest stars Tai Babilonia and Randy Gardner, World Champions and five-time U.S. National Champions. This electrifying young couple are best known for their "mirror image" execution of dangerous and daring moves. Being just a few inches apart in height, they are able to match their moves as few other skating teams ever have.

With all the excitement of a Hollywood premiere, the Ice Capettes and Ice Cadets open the show in a sharp display of synopated skating set to thrilling theatrical themes in "Light Up The Ice."

For wide-eyed kids of all ages, there is a world behind the looking glass as the famous fable of Lewis Carroll comes to life. We join an alluring "Alice at the Wonderland Ball" where she meets the Queen of Hearts, the White Rabbit, the Mad Hatter, and all the storybook characters in a frosty fairy tale.

Next it's off on a "Journey to the Ice Age," a voyage through the chilling reaches of uncharted space. The grandeur of glistening glaciers provides a serene setting as the Ice Capades Flying Ballet soars 30 feet above the ice.

A musical excursion through the past comes your way next in "Juke Box Jam-boree," celebrating the sounds of the Forties and Fifties. Then, with the thrills of a passing parade, the Ice Capettes present a precision-perfect performance with the skill of a marching band. It's "Precision On Parade."

Finally, in a breathtaking finale, a flight to the City of Lights brings us to "Paris by Night," and the entire cast of Ice Capades gathers to say a fond Au Revoir.

Tai Babilonia and Randy Gardner are joined by an internationally acclaimed cast that includes U.S. Junior Men's Champion Richard Ewell, World Professional Champion Wendy Burge, and the adagio artistry of Jillian and Danne. In addition, the Ice Capades spotlights focus on U.S. Silver and Bronze Medalist Teresa Foy and Pacific Coast Champion David Fee.

McManus has been participating in the program and wants to share it with others.

A unique gift of health this holiday season is available through Lawrence General Hospital. It is enrollment in the "lifestyle" program.

"Lifestyle," a series of counseling sessions and workshops, was developed by the hospital's department of education and made available first to hospital employees. This fall it was opened to the public. The entire program usually takes about four months.

Origins Of Christmas Subject Of Pageant

THE TOWNSMAN, DECEMBER 18, 1980

Sunday evening at 6 p.m., the Sunday School children of the Andover Baptist Church will present a Christmas Pageant entitled, "Once Upon A Christmas Time."

Under the direction of Sue Moyer and Barbara Heartquist, the ten scenes of the pageant will portray the origins of Christ-

Long Celebration

One of the longest Christmas celebrations in the world takes place in Sweden, when the holiday lasts an entire month. It begins on Dec. 13 with Saint Lucia's feast day, and ends Jan. 13, Saint Knut's Day, when children "plunder" the Christmas tree, eating all its candies and cookies before removing its ornaments and carrying it outdoors with a song.

mas carols and such customs as the setting up of manger scenes, Scandinavian bird Christmas trees, Christmas cards, poinsettias, bell ringing, the Advent wreath, window candles, giving gifts, and lighted, decorated trees in the home.

The pageant narrator will be David Thompson, and Louise Stevenson is the music director. At designated times during the pageant the Sunday School chorus will sing "White Christmas," "I Heard The Bells On Christmas Day," "We Three Kings," "O Christmas Tree, O Christmas Tree," and "Away In A Manger." Keith Roberts will sing "Silent Night" and speaking parts will be played by David Flanders, Heather Fuller, Carlos Gonzales, Nicoli Gonzales, Amy Heartquist, Sarah LaRose, Lynda Lounsbury, Sean Lynch, Ginny MacDonald, Tim MacDonald, Faye Moyer, Jenny Thomson, Amy Williams and Wendy Williams. In the closing scene of the pageant the parts of Mary and Joseph will be portrayed by Erica Heartquist and Kit Roberts.

Everyone is welcome to attend this special Christmas program.

18th Century Creche On Exhibit

In keeping with a tradition which has its origins in the 12th century, the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, will display its 25-piece, 18th century Christmas creche from Dec. 6 through Jan. 4. In celebration of the season, the nativity scene will decorate the museum's Stone Room on the second floor.

Mary, Joseph and the Christ Child, as well as musicians, shepherds, country folk, sheep, goats and cows, made of polychromed terracotta, will be set up in a wooden stable. An angel, also made of wood by a different hand than the rest of the figures, will be suspended above the scene heralding Christ's birth.

The collection, purchased by the museum in 1965, was most likely part of a larger ensemble at one time, as is suggested by the figure of a blackmoor announcing the arrival of the Magi, who are not included in the scene at present. One of the Magi is preserved in the famous creche of the Bavarian National Museum of Munich.

The expressive figures, which average 12 inches in height, are related in style to German rococo sculpture, and thought to be Venetian in origin. They are a delight for all Christmas viewers.

Lecture Series On Psychiatry

Andover's Unitarian-Universalist Church at 244 Lowell St. will sponsor a four-part lecture series on "Psychiatry Today and Tomorrow," to be held Wednesdays, Jan. 7, 14, 21 and 28, at 8 p.m. The series will be presented by Andover psychiatrist Henry Coffin Everett, M.D., a graduate of Harvard College and John Hopkins Medical School in Baltimore, Md., and author of numerous scholarly works.

The American Psychiatric Association has published this year a new manual for the classification of mental disorders. This new system, more scientifically rigorous, serves better as a guide to appropriate modes of treatment and will serve to highlight Dr. Everett's discussion of many frequently encountered conditions.

Persons desiring a copy of a specially designed brochure which explains fully the January program are asked to call the church office.

Be Fire-proof

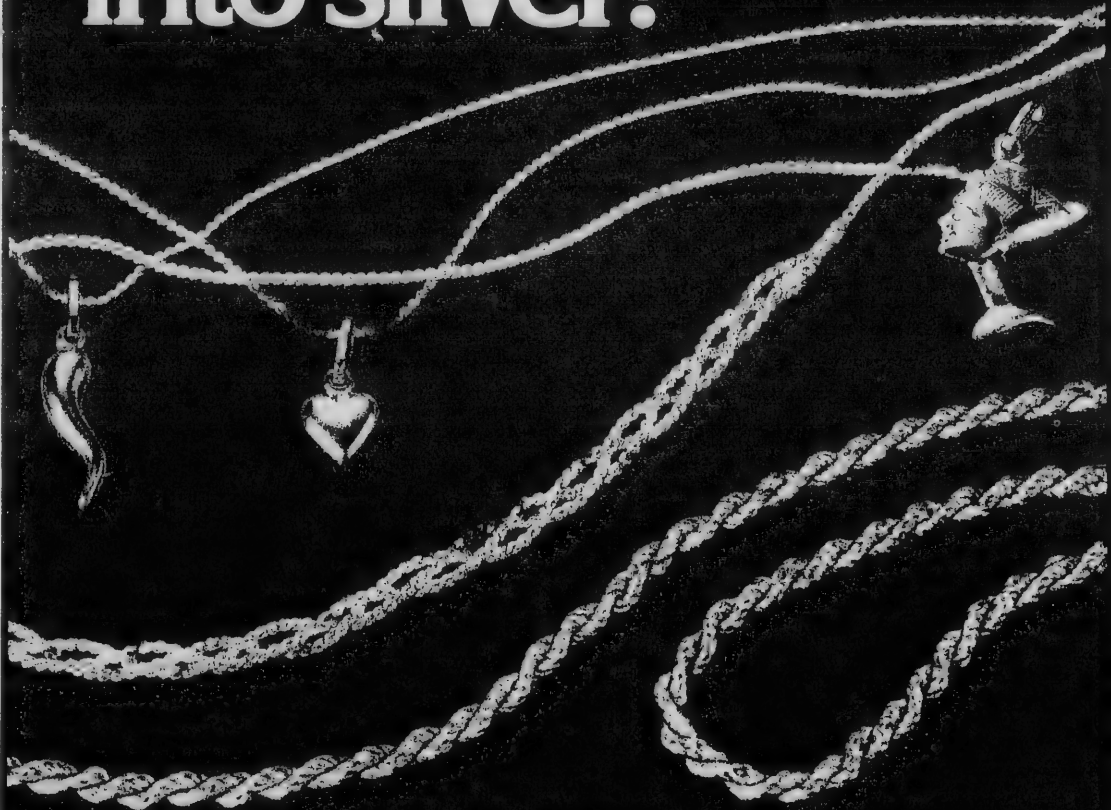

Avoid flammable Christmas decorations such as tissue paper, cotton batting, flock and some foamed plastics. Stick with non-combustible and flame retardant decorations. Don't make a bonfire of your gift wrappings and evergreen boughs in the fireplace.

Electric Toys

Look for the UL label on electric toys. Consider the age of the child when buying toys.

In France, a huge wicker figure clothed in outlandish garb and carrying a basket on its back is strapped on a donkey and paraded through the streets. Villagers fill the basket with food and gifts, which are received by the poor at the village church. The figure is named "Melchior" after one of the three Magi.

Selectmen, Legislators On Same Wave Length

29 THE TOWNSMAN, DECEMBER 18, 1980

A meeting Monday night of the selectmen and Andover's legislators, State Representative Gerald Cohen, Senator Robert Buell and Senator-elect Patricia McGovern, found the legislators thinking along the same lines as the local officials — at least for the most part.

The selectmen invited the solons to Memorial Hall Library to discuss a few of the issues the board would like to see introduced as legislation during the upcoming session.

Chairman James Abramson put "concerns caused by the passage of Proposition 2½ and its many implications" at the top of the selectmen's list, but other items up for discussion included reducing state mandates, eliminating county government, restoring local court fines, and developing youth detention facilities.

Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark said there are currently 456 state mandates, and suggested a "sunset provision" that would require one-fifth of these mandates to be reviewed every year, "rather than a broad, sweeping repeal of mandates."

"The state should be constantly looking at itself," Selectman Norma Gammon added, "and not just leaning on the cities and towns."

Selectman Susan Poore said she felt "a sense of frustration when it comes to the state budget—if we're going to wrangle with our local budget, I certainly look at the state to do the same."

Representative Cohen maintained that "there really have not been many mandates at all in the past few years," adding that many may be reviewed at the local level every three years.

"But to re-vote on one-fifth of 456 of them each year would not be any great burden to the legislature," he indicated.

McGovern said she favored the sunset legislation, adding that it should be applied to all state agencies, as well as mandates. "In view of 2½, I'd like to see if we can lessen the burden on cities and towns," she said.

The legislators agreed with the selectmen that county government should be eliminated, though they did not appear to feel as strongly about the issue as does the local board.

"For the life of me I can't see why we need another level of government, at a cost that runs into many thousands of dollars," Abramson said. He suggested that the responsibilities of county government could be fulfilled by the state, or local and regional agencies.

Although agreeing county government should be abolished, Cohen pointed out it is "very effective in the Western part of the state."

Buell maintained that municipalities may not see any savings if county costs are simply picked up by the state. "But I am not defending county government," he added quickly.

"It is not a question of saving money," replied Selectman Jerry Silverman. "It is a question of, do we really need this extra level of government, that goes back to Colonial times, when it was easier to ride to the county seat than into Boston?"

The selectmen ran into a little more resistance from the lawmakers when they suggested that revenues from court fines be returned to the town, rather than falling into state coffers.

"I disagree with you on this," Cohen told the board. "The state has taken over the cost of the court system, but you still want the revenue from fines. You can't have it both ways. I think the state should get all the fines."

But the town is required to obtain a complaint against an offender, hold a hearing, and then take the case to court, with police officers paid overtime. "The town's costs of processing a case have increased since one year ago," the manager said. "It may cost the town from $100 to $1,000 to obtain a $100 conviction."

Senator-elect McGovern strongly supported the town manager's recommendation that a youth detention center be opened for young people found guilty of vandalism.

A youth detention center would be "better run and better equipped" than the former training schools, Clark indicated, but would still remove vandals from general school population.

"I have been a severe critic of the Department of Youth Services of the Commonwealth for the last decade,"

McGovern declared, "and I support Jared on this."

McGovern also said she was "intrigued" by Clark's proposal that local jails be used as weekend lock-ups to punish youthful

"What's All This White Stuff, Mom?"

As his Mom calmly eats, this pony is not sure he's enjoying his first taste of snow, but there's no doubt it would be a lot more fun if he had a blanket on too.

Licenses, Permits Approved

During a regular meeting of the selectmen at Memorial Hall Library Monday night, the board approved four licenses and permits.

Joel Shapiro, Burlington, was granted a one-day auctioneer's license for the sale of Oriental rugs at the Sheraton-Rolling Green, Lowell Street, from 1 to 5 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 21.

The Massachusetts Department of the American Legion was granted permission to conduct its seventh annual "Walk for Youth" on April 5, with a rain date of April 12.

The selectmen granted Bay State Gas Company permission to excavate in Wolcott Avenue, Sherbourne Street, Shepley Street, Kirkland Drive, South Main Street, Enmore Street, Mohawk Drive and Central Street to repair gas mains.

And, sitting as sewer commissioners, the board approved sanitary sewer connections for Andover Commons Associates, 10 Railroad St., and to the owners of a new single-family home on River Street.

Both connections had been approved by the Board of Health and the director of Public Works, according to Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark.

Pixies In Denmark

Santa is new to Denmark, but the "Nisser" have always lived there — thumb-sized pixies who live in barns and attics and keep busy with harmless mischief. They all wear red stocking caps so that when the men get old and grow white beards, they look like little Santas.

Sand Problem Won't Go Away

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

Snow. Merciful snow. Instant suburban renewal. The Andover Country Club Sand Pit is temporarily frozen over. We have a brief respite from the blowing sand we had earlier this month, in November, and at various times in October, September, August, May and last winter.

We still have a problem like we knew we would. Dry mouth and scratchy throat within minutes of turning on the heater in the car. Grit on the car, grit in the house — not as much as we would have if the windows were open but grit nevertheless — and dry mouth, scratchy throat, sneezing . . . I do not have a cold or the flu. I have an unhealthful condition (Country Club Group) in my car and in my house. The Sand Pit is still twelve odd acres. I think it was rather a brilliant stroke by Cormier Construction to be late with the gravel removal permit fee. The permit did not issue so there are no thirty-six conditions that Mr. Cormier said that he could live with.

Back in May I said the hay cover will not work. It didn't. I said the snow fence was useless. It is. I said sand will blow everytime the wind is right. It does. I said the area must be planted to solve the problem. It was not planted. The problem is not solved and I have no intention of going through eight odd years of this.

The problem will not go away by itself. The abutters will not go away either.

I want to talk about solutions and take action. I want to talk about how this happened in the first place and how to prevent a similar occurrence elsewhere in Andover.

I am anxious to hear from you.

Some Toys Dangerous To Eyes

Christmas toy shoppers, beware.

A large number of 1980 toys labelled "safety tested" still can cause damage to the eyes and even blindness, warns Sanford Monsein, O.D., president of the Massachusetts Society of Optometrists.

"Despite great strides by toymakers in improving the safety of their products, there remains a bevy of toys that are optometrically unsafe," says Dr. Monsein. "Toys that leap over obstacles, take off from ramps or shoot metal balls and other objects are the major culprits."

Among the games that may be potentially unsafe for the eyes include large plastic robots that fire missiles at high velocity, pin ball games without protective canopy, games with tension-launched plastic discs that easily overshoot, and spring guns using metal balls as ammunition. Particularly dangerous are hydraulic-powered rockets and rubber band powered plastic jet planes. In addition, the traditional gifts such as darts and BB guns are always high on the list.

"It must be remembered that toys safe with regard to other parts of the body are still dangerous when the eye is a possible target," says Dr. Monsein. "The eye is a particularly sensitive organ. Even a light blow by an object that would not hurt another part of the body could cause detached retinas and other serious problems to the eye. It is no wonder that these kinds of toys cause over 50,000 eye accidents among children every Christmas — ten times more than at other times of the year."

Whenever you drive in a snowstorm, make sure your headlights and taillights are switched on so other drivers can see you.

offenders, in light of overcrowding in state houses of correction.

But Buell said efforts to open a youth detention center have been stalled for three or four years because an acceptable location can not be found.

"Where do we locate it?" he asked. "I'm sure you don't want it in Andover — and I'm sure your neighbors in North Andover don't want it either. Everyone says, don't put that jail in my backyard."

And Cohen pointed out that housing vandals in the former Essex Training Center, as some have suggested, could cost the state between $5 and $9 million a year, "just because of vandalism. And everyone wants the state to pay for it."

Expect 3.3 Million Christmas Greetings

THE TOWNSMAN, DECEMBER 18, 1980

"Season's Greetings" will be exchanged by telephone in record numbers this Christmas.

New England Telephone expects to handle some 3.3 million long distance calls on Christmas Day, an increase of more than 10 percent over last year. About 35,000 of these calls will be to points overseas — about twice as many as made on an average business day.

AT&T predicts nationwide calling this Christmas will establish a record 21 million interstate calls, and 665,000 of these will be to locations overseas.

The increase in the number of calls won't be the only challenge to the telephone company's network on Christmas Day. A heavy impact will be felt because of a change in calling patterns. People will be dialing from their homes instead of their businesses and talking twice as long, which will cause increased traffic on usually low-volume routes.

The flow of domestic and worldwide telephone traffic will be watched constantly at 12 regional centers and many other offices throughout North America. Information from these centers is instantaneously sent to the national network operations center in Bedminster, N.J. where network managers can switch the routing of calls to handle changing calling patterns.

Information on rates for holiday calls within the state and to other states is available in the introductory pages of each telephone directory.

Some Christmas calling tips New England Telephone suggests include:

If possible place your out-of-state holiday call after 5 p.m. on Wednesday, Dec. 24, or on Friday, Dec. 26. This will help ease the rush and ensure that your call goes through.

Although still busy, the lightest calling period on Christmas Day is between 1 and 5 p.m.

Dial long distance calls directly whenever possible to save both time and money. Domestic dial rates — no matter what the hour — are lower than operator-assisted rates.

Have numbers for domestic and international calls available ahead of time. If it's necessary to call directory assistance, do so before the holiday.

French Group Is Organizing

French-speaking Cape Ann residents are organizing a luncheon group that will meet every Thursday starting Jan. 8.

Anyone who can speak French throughout a meal, even faultingly, is invited to join the group for lunch any Thursday at 1 p.m. at Seven Central Restaurant in Manchester.

Organizers suggest wearing a red carnation in order to be recognized as one of the Francophiles.

Exhibit

A new exhibit is now on display in the Phillips Exeter Academy Library. Running through Jan. 30, it is entitled "Historical Images" and is a study of the history of photography. Students in the Advanced Photography class, working under the direction of their instructors, Susan MacDougall, and the Periodicals and Archives Librarian, Ed Desrochers, researched and arranged the exhibit.

Various photographic processes are represented: the camera obscura, daguerreotypes, ambrotypes, tin-types, cyanotypes, glass plates, stereographs, cartes-de-visites, and cabinet photographs. Each section of the exhibit includes an explanation of the process and a display of examples from the Academy Archive photograph collection selected by the students. Of special interest are a stereoscopic viewer with a collection of stereographs used by Gray Funkhouser to teach solid geometry at the Academy in the 1930's and a collection of 18 antique cameras dating from as early as the 1880's.

Russian Christmas

In Russia, Christmas season is a time for family reunions and children's parties. The high point of the merriment is at midnight when a sleeping hen is brought into the warm kitchen from the cold roost and placed on the floor amidst five piles of grain.

While the hen is still sleepy, she selects the piles which represent wealth, poverty, death, marriage and a life of single blessedness.

Don't burn the Christmas tree in the fireplace; the dried needles make a too-hot fire.

Saint Nikolas

Saint Nikolas in Czechoslovakia wears white gloves, a bishop's peaked hat and robes, and resembles our Santa only in his long white beard and his love for children. Czech children believe he is lowered from heaven on a golden cord. With him is an angel in white with gifts for the good and a devil with whips for the bad.

Dear
Gloria Stevens...

You gave me quite a gift!

"I keep looking for that 'magic' formula that makes my wife feel happy about having joined Gloria Stevens.

I have noticed that she is more relaxed, and less nervous than ever before. I feel great just knowing that she is doing something that she enjoys so much.

I know that there is no 'magic' formula, it's just a matter of self-discipline and determination to stay healthy.

Thank you so much Gloria Stevens and all of the lovely people who have helped to make my wife a healthier and happier woman."

"WHAT'S IN A NAME?"

Is it true that every Swiss is a connoisseur of cheese; every Italian well versed in the art of lace making; every Frenchman a competent judge of wines?

Is it any wiser to presume that every one from the Orient is a natural rug-craftsman? If the work justifies the name, then the name is GREGORIAN for he has a background of generations of rug weavers added to his own skill in detection and correction of rug needs.

Career Planning Offered Women

Can a mature college graduate, an ex-teacher or a woman who has never worked find a program that will help her to focus on a new career?

More than 100 women who have attended the LIVE program at Middlesex Community College's Division of Community Services have responded with a resounding "YES!"

On Monday, Jan. 12, a Coffee/Open House will be held at 10 a.m. for women who are interested in hearing about LIVE — a day-time career planning program that provides an opportunity to learn on-the-job. Interviews are now in progress.

B'nai B'rith Meeting Scheduled

B'nai B'rith Women Peace Chapter of Andover will be holding their annual Chai evening on Dec. 20, at the home of Marilyn Frank of Andover at 8 p.m.

In order to join Chai Club, a member must donate to the chapter. The second Chai evening will be a bowling party in February. For reservations, contact Marilyn Frank or Sheila Engelhart.

At Realty Course In Andover

Grace M. Vasta, North Andover, and Flora R. Valentine of Andover, have successfully completed Course I of the 1980 Fall Realtors Institute of Massachusetts held recently at the Sheraton-Rolling Green, Andover.

The association sponsors Institutes throughout the year for Realtors and Realtor-Associates as part of its continuing education program. Upon completion of three 30-hour courses, Institute participants receive the nationally-recognized designation GRI (Graduate, Realtors Institute).

Grace Vasta and Flora Valentine are associated with Valentine Company, Andover.

By means of seminars and discussions participants prepare for professional careers on either a part-time or full-time basis. There are no entrance exams and no tests. Special attention is given to interviewing and resume preparation, the two areas that concern women who have not had recent job experience.

The unique feature of LIVE is the on-the-job training specially arranged for each person. Placements are made in business, industry, social service agencies or wherever interest is displayed. Most of the women are hired by these companies to work in personnel, advertising, counseling, public relations, technical writing, and other areas.

As Co-ordinator Sandy Pollack says, "LIVE helps women to focus on the one career for which they seem best suited. We then develop an on-the-job training program in that field. Most women are hired to work full or part time after their training period."

For reservations and directions to Middlesex Community College, call Sandy Pollack.

Volunteers Are Needed

A festive holiday spirit is all that's needed to participate in the Boston Holiday Project's gift wrapping parties, Saturday, Dec. 20, and Sunday, Dec. 21, at the J.F.K. Building in Government Center.

The Holiday Project is a nationwide volunteer campaign to share the joy of the holidays with those who might otherwise be alone on Christmas Day. Gifts wrapped at the J.F.K. Building have been donated, or purchased with contributions collected by Holiday Project volunteers. The gifts will be delivered to hospitals, convalescent centers, and correctional institutions throughout the Boston area on Christmas Day.

To Observe Year Of Rooster

One of the most colorful and unusual New Year's celebrations takes place at the Boston Children's Museum on Sunday, Jan. 4, when the museum hosts its annual Japanese New Year's Party to celebrate the Year of the Rooster.

The museum's Japanese Home, a two-story artisan's house from Kyoto, will be decorated with symbols of long life, prosperity and vigor — pine boughs, bamboo stalks and plum blossoms — and the rest of the museum will be hung with giant roosters and cranes.

The day-long celebration, now a Boston tradition, presents music, demonstrations, food tasting and participatory Japanese New Year's activities.

Kimono-clad children from the Japanese Language School will be singing songs in Japanese and English, and a koto player will accompany them and play solos on this traditional string instrument.

Children and adults from the Boston Kendo Club will demonstrate this form of Japanese fencing, and there'll also be a demonstration of sword drawing.

Mochi, pounded rice cakes, are always a New Year's treat, and visitors can watch the dough being pounded and formed into small cakes, then nibble on a sample.

Activities for visitors include making New Year's greeting cards (nengajo); trying on kimono and making their own miniature versions; constructing paper balloons from colored tissue paper; writing a haiku; and playing hanetsuki, a miniature battledore and shuttlecock game. One of the most popular activities with young visitors is making fish prints using a real fish.

The day's festivities will also include a Japanese children's film and readings of folk tales.

Tours of the Japanese Home will take place all day, and, at the entrance, a chart will explain the cycle of 12 animals in the Japanese calendar. Persons born in the Year of the Rooster are said to be industrious, confident, brave, quick and ambitious.

Visitors who own their own kimono are encouraged to wear them.

The Boston Children's Museum is at Museum Wharf, 300 Congress St. on Boston's waterfront. To reach the museum from the north or south take the expressway; from the west take the Mass. Pike to the expressway north signs. Northbound, exit at Northern Avenue; southbound, exit at Congress Street. Follow the Museum Wharf signs displaying a milk bottle.

Storage License Approved

The selectmen Monday night approved a request from Raytheon, 350 Lowell St., for a license to store inflammables.

The company already held a license to store 98,376 cubic feet of hydrogen gas, but asked the selectmen to modify that license to allow the storage of 5,200 gallons of liquid hydrogen instead.

The company does not plan to use hydrogen gas any longer, explained Raytheon representative Richard Gary.

During a public hearing on the license at Memorial Hall Library, Gary told a questioner that the storage tank will be located inside a double fence in the center of a 182-acre site, and patrolled 24 hours a day by a guard service.

Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark told the selectmen that the fire chief had approved the application.

Holiday Transit Schedule

The MVRTA has announced a revised schedule for the upcoming holidays.

On Christmas Day, Dec. 25, and New Year's Day, Jan. 1, there will be no Haverhill area bus service, no Lawrence area bus service and no WEEBUS service in Andover, Methuen or North Andover.

Commuter rail service will be operating on its holiday/Sunday schedule.

McCracken's Open Due To Appeal

McCracken's Package Store, 4 Poor St., will remain open through the holidays, despite the selectmen's intention to suspend the store's liquor license held by William Bucu, for most of December.

An Essex Superior Court ruling handed down Monday set a temporary restraining order on the selectmen's recent order to suspend Bucu's license for 20 working days, until the state Alcoholic Beverages Control Commission (ABCC) hears Bucu's appeal of the suspension.

The ABCC hearing is scheduled for Jan. 22.

On Dec. 1, the selectmen ordered Bucu's license suspended from Dec. 4 through Dec. 27 — the larger part of the busiest month of the year for most liquor retailers.

However, the store has remained open as a result of Bucu's petition to the court for a restraining order.

If the ABCC upholds the selectmen's ruling next month, the license suspension may then go into effect.

The selectmen ordered the license suspended after a public hearing because they determined that a McCracken's clerk, Kevin Kennedy, 20, of North Andover, had sold a bottle of wine to a 16-year-old girl on June 30.

Kennedy last month was convicted in Lawrence District Court of procuring alcohol for a minor. He will appeal that conviction next month before a six-man jury in Haverhill.

According to the selectmen, the June 30 offense was the third for McCracken's in less than three years; under the board's liquor policy, the offense warranted a license suspension of up to 30 days.

Modifying Prop. 2½ Still Up In Air

What does the legislature plan to do to modify the impact of Proposition 2½, which is "certainly not a perfect law"? That was among the questions the selectmen addressed to local legislators Monday night.

The answer: not a great deal.

Representative Gerald Cohen, who took an active part in efforts to defeat the property tax-cutting measure, told the board not to expect any "major changes" within the next six months.

However, "some 400 to 500 bills have already been filed to change 2½," he added.

Several communities, including Brookline and Cambridge, have already filed a home rule bill which would allow town meeting to override 2½, the representative explained, offering that as one alternative for Andover.

"This board has no desire to override it," Chairman James Abramson declared. "The town voted for it, and we should live with some form of 2½."

But the law is "certainly not a perfect" one, the chairman added, asking, "What modifications can be made to make it more nearly perfect?"

"I think the imperfections have to do with the referendum override," Cohen replied. "Your budget planning takes place in the fall, but town meeting (when the override would be voted) is in the spring. We should bring the override in line with the budget process."

"I voted for 2½," Senator Robert Buell asserted, "and I was one of the legislators who initially thought it up in 1978."

But the senator agreed with Cohen that the override aspect of the law should be amended: "Let town meeting have its say. Maybe it will help bring people out to town meeting."

Buell, who drew laughter when he looked to Cohen to answer the selectmen's initial question, criticized two other aspects of the proposition: the automobile excise tax reduction, and tax deductions for renters.

The excise tax should not have been reduced from $66 per thousand to $25, he explained, and should not have taken effect until 1982.

Senator-elect Patricia McGovern offered no comments on modification of Proposition 2½.

Rollins Gets Nod In Dracut

Rollins Cablevision, which is seeking the Andover cable TV franchise, was the unanimous recommendation of the Cable Advisory Committee in Dracut Tuesday night.

The eight members of the advisory committee voted to recommend Rollins to the selectmen over Colony Cablevision of Lowell. The Lowell firm also serves Tewksbury.

Dracut selectmen will conduct a hearing on the license Dec. 30.

Rollins was the recommendation of the Andover Cable Advisory Committee, but selectmen have delayed a decision pending a study by a consultant examining the proposals and financial standing of both the Atlanta-based company and Continental Cablevision of Lawrence, which is contesting the recommendation to the local board.

The Rollins proposal in Dracut calls for a 52-channel offering along with most other parts of the Andover consideration, including the telecast of courses from Merrimack College.

A week ago, Rollins and Continental officials agreed on the retaining of Malarky, Taylor and Associates, as consultants to report to the selectmen. No date has been established for submitting a report.

Vacation Begins On Tuesday

The Christmas school vacation will begin on Tuesday, Dec. 23 at the end of the school day.

Reports that the vacation dates had been changed are incorrect as there has been no move to alter the school calendar as adopted last year.

Classes resume on Monday Jan. 5

Ramp For Handicapped At Library

A new ramp for handicapped patrons, extending from Main Street, near the service station, to the lower level of the library, has been installed at Memorial Hall Library, Andover. An internal elevator will be used to take wheelchair-bound patrons and others who cannot climb stairs to the main reading room and all stack levels of the library except the second floor hall.

Funds used for building the ramp came from a 1978 appropriation to remove architectural barriers and improve accessibility in town buildings. The library, because of the many stairs at both entrances, was chosen as a prime location to use these funds.

It is conservatively estimated that one out of ten persons in the U.S. at any given time has limited mobility due to a temporary or permanent physical handicap. All 50 states now have laws regarding barrier free design and Massachusetts has an Architectural Barriers Board which writes and enforces state regulations. Ramps are required to have a one foot in 12 maximum slope with at least one handrail 32" above the ramp surface.

Additional projects to remove architectural barriers using the limited amount of money left are being considered by town officials.

On The Art Of Removing Snow

In years past, when snow fell gently to the ground, necessitating the attention of town forces, the horses were drawn from the barns and hitched to rollers to tamp down the accumulation.

As years went by, man invented such things as a snow plow which, when attached to a horse, produced paths over which wagons and feet would trod toward appointed destinations.

Time passed and man's progress brought him to such marvels as vehicles of huge tonnage and horse-power, with large, heavy blades, known as snow plows.

But, their absence in Andover in the first two storms of the season is almost as evident as the primitive machinery which once furrowed the highways and byways of Andover, assisting the weary traveller toward his destination.

The first storm a few weeks ago may have caught Andover, as well as other towns and cities off guard, being early in the season, and hired contractors unprepared to move into action quickly.

But the storm of Monday and Tuesday of this week was accompanied by adequate notice. The threat of a storm which was forecast to dump between six and 12 inches of snow on the area was predicted throughout the day on Monday.

Snow began falling lightly in the Andover area from about 9 p.m. on Monday.

But, Tuesday morning as Andover residents headed for work or other destinations, they found their streets for the most replete with new, white, untouched snow in abundance.

Even main streets were not cleared or provided with a good swipe of a plow to allow good traction for those who had to be out on the roads.

Those whose journey took them either out of town or into Andover, could detect the difference in road conditions at the town line as late as 9 a.m.

All of this gives evidence that there is some kind of problem with snow removal practices in Andover in modern times. There was a time when snow was of little problem to the travelling public in this community, so fine was the response to the problem by the town and hired crews.

We know there is a need to conserve funds due to recent tax-cutting measures provided by the public.

We are aware that obtaining heavy equipment through private contractors may be a problem, since payment in the private sector is higher than in towns and cities.

There may be other problems as well, dealing with overtime funds and probably a dwindling snow removal budget.

But this is only mid-December. Winter doesn't officially begin until next week and New England weather has a way of getting even. Last year, hardly any snow, thus it is not entirely out of reason to suspect the pendulum would swing back to an abundance of snow this winter.

Under such circumstances, isn't it reasonable to assume that Andover's administrators would take a hard look at whatever the problem is with the fine, yet uncomplicated art of snow removal before the next storm hits town?

More than just the convenience of the motorist, is the matter of public safety in such weather conditions.

Let us suggest that the matter be examined very carefully and some assurance given that snow removal will improve in Andover very quickly, even if it means seeing to it that the blades are down on all the trucks when they are patrolling the streets. There was a tandem working one section of town Tuesday morning with two trucks with raised blades being followed by one with blade down. Not much snow gets moved that way.

Considerable improvement is necessary, unless the town is willing to supply sleighs and pungs in the coming months. And, with Proposition 2½, that's out of the question.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — December 1905

H. S. Deming won the prize for excellence in elocution at Harvard. When a student at Andover Deming took a prominent place in literary and debating circles.

Frank Goodwin picked up an old-fashioned cent in the square one day this week, the date of which was 1815. The cent is of the old make and is as large as a twenty-five cent piece.

About 40 students of Punchard school made up a very jolly skating party at Haggetts Pond on Tuesday. The skaters left the square about 8 o'clock in Ammon P. Richardson's barge and soon arrived at the pond.

James G. Anderson of Cuba Street won first prize with Black Dragons and third with Red Tumblers at the Beverly Pigeon and Poultry show recently.

By the will of Mrs. Coburn, filed during the past week, Andover is to receive the splendid aid to various interests of over one hundred thousand dollars. Not only in amount but in the careful discrimination shown in the giving, this is one of the largest benefactions ever given to Andover, and the public institutions of the town will ever have reason to hold the giver in grateful memory.

50 Years Ago — December 1930

Shawsheen Village still retains the title of the coldest spot in the Merrimack Valley and Monday night while the mercury was hovering near the zero mark in other cities and towns, a reading of 10 degrees below was taken at the village.

The many friends of J. Everett Collins, Andover's well-known baritone, enjoyed listening on Wednesday afternoon to his first broadcast for station WEEI on the musical prelude to the address by the radio pastor, Rev. Evan J. Shearman.

Almost within sight of her own doorway, Miss Julia Daly of 10 Chestnut Street was robbed of her handbag containing $50 as she was returning home Tuesday evening shortly after 6 o'clock. A man with his face concealed by his coat collar and hat passed her on the run, snatching her bag as he passed.

Christmas has arrived at the junior library! Through the generosity of Francis H. Foster a large quantity of pine boughs have been placed in various nooks and corners of the room. There is a good-sized Christmas tree which is gayly decorated and the children daily bring in some treasure of theirs "to put on the tree."

Miss Margaret Glen Sparks and James William O'Donnell, both members of the senior class, were the winners at the thirtieth annual Goldsmith prize-speaking held last Friday evening in the Punchard hall. Two prizes of five dollars each are awarded, one to a boy and one to a girl, for excellence in public speaking.

25 Years Ago — December 1955

Superintendent Edward I. Erickson's salary was boosted to $10,000 per year at a meeting of the school committee last Wednesday night. The meeting was primarily held to discuss the 1956 budget but also took up the superintendent's salary which has been brought up on several occasions during the past six months.

West Andoverites don't want industry in their neighborhood. That fact became clear Monday night when 31 members of the North District Improvement association voted against industrial growth in the West Andover section — while only four voted for it.

The Post Office handled more mail Monday than in any other day in the history of the service here. Postmaster Stephen Boland said that 67,170 pieces of mail moved through the cancelling machine that day to set the record.

Town Treasurer Thaxter Eaton reports that the interest on treasury bills purchased with some of the money borrowed in anticipation of the high school bond issue has exceeded the interest due on the borrowing. Thus, he said, the town does not owe any interest on the temporary borrowing.

Members of the planning board, selectmen and industrial commission were reminded Monday night that the voters failed to take steps to accomplish water supply and distribution projects when suggested by the BPW during years past. Selectman Sidney P. White, also chairman of the BPW, told the boards that the town is running far behind its time schedule, based on a 1945 report recommending changes and additions to the system here.

10 Years Ago — December 1970

Harry Sagris, director of the Ipswich Public Library, has been appointed director of the Memorial Hall Library and has accepted the position, it was announced today by Frederick S. Allis, Jr., chairman of the Memorial Hall Library board of trustees. The appointment was made by Town Manager J. Maynard Austin and was

JACK ANDERSON and JOE SPEAR

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Carter Circle Is Target
Of Book and Lecture OffersBy Jack Anderson and Joe Spear

WASHINGTON -- Agents are swarming all over the White House these days. But they are not operatives of the KGB, the CIA or the FBI. They are representatives of book publishers and lecture bureaus, and what they are trying to do is nail down exclusive contracts with the departing Democrats.

The traffic in agents is so heavy that they are literally bumping into each other in the corridors and anterooms of the Executive Mansion. Press Secretary Jody Powell, for example, ushered one agent out the door while another waited in the outer office to see him.

According to one agent, Hamilton Jordan has demanded a $10,000 cash bonus just for signing a contract. He also wants to be paid in advance for six speaking engagements. A spokesman for Jordan would say only that he has made no deal -- yet.

United Nations ambassador Donald McHenry may end up signing two -- yes, two -- exclusive contracts. He has talked to the Harry Walker Agency about giving lectures to businessmen, and he is dickering with the American Program Bureau about college appearances.

Even President Carter has indicated that he may be interested in going on the lecture circuit. Not that he will need the money; his ex-president's pension and expense account should keep the wolf from the door. But he still has something to say that he believes people will want to hear and, presumably, pay for.

The president's son, Chip Carter, may also lecture for pay. We are happy to report, however, that daughter Amy has not contacted a lecture agent.

Not too many people, apparently, are interested in nuclear proliferation.

GOING TOO FAR?: At high noon on Inauguration Day, thousands of government jobs will be available for Ronald Reagan to fill. His aides have already started interviewing applicants.

Well, we want to give the Reagan people a word of caution: Be careful how you conduct the interviews. You may not realize it, but the federal government has adopted literally hundreds of rules and regulations on how to interview job applicants. These are designed to make sure they aren't discriminated against because of sex, race or ethnic background.

In some government agencies, creative bureaucrats have published guidelines to help their interviewers steer clear of problems. Here are a few excerpts from the Justice Department's official guidelines on how to interview minorities:

-- When interviewing women, do not inquire "whether she has any children and how many, what ages or sex they are."

-- "Some men find it embarrassing to behave toward women in a completely businesslike way." So the interviewers are directed not to joke with women.

-- "By all means, try to avoid discussing sports with black applicants. Contrary to popular belief, not all blacks are athletes or avid sports fans."

-- When interviewing Hispanic candidates, "don't ask what the good Mexican restaurants are in the interview city."

-- When interviewing American Indians, "avoid asking what kind of dwelling the interviewee's family lives in. Indians live in tepees, hogans, trailers, condominiums and split-level California ranch houses, depending on the Indians."

-- Never ask an Indian applicant if he or she "or some member of the ... family made the jewelry they are wearing (if they are wearing any). Also don't ask if they know someone who weaves rugs or makes pots."

The only question we have is this: How did the people who drafted these guidelines get their jobs?

FISHY ENDEAVOR: Fishery experts say that supplies of some delectable species are dwindling. Yet, many equally tasty water-dwellers are not eaten because they have unappetizing names.

The National Marine Fisheries Service has been trying to solve the problem. The agency gave $63,000 to a Chicago consulting firm to figure out how fish with unappetizing names could be made more appealing to consumers. The solution: Change the names of the various fish.

But, after seven years and an expenditure of almost $500,000, a rattfish is still called a rattfish, and the problem remains unsolved.

Even if the fisheries service eventually comes up with some new fish names, there may be more obstacles. The Food and Drug Administration now claims it is the agency in charge of naming fish, and a jurisdictional dispute is looming.

WATCH ON WASTE: Ever wonder what your senator reads? Outgoing Sen. Mike Gravel, D-Alaska, recently purchased copies of "Alexander the Great" and "Celts: People Out of Darkness." He charged the taxpayers $21.55 for the two books. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas, apparently hoping to sharpen his speaking skills, bought "2,500 Jokes to Start 'Em Laughing" and "2,000 New Laughs for Speakers." They cost the public $14.90.

The taxpayers may not find that a laughing matter.

Sugarloaf Ski Weekends

The Department of Community Services will be offering four weekend ski trips to Sugarloaf Mountain, Maine, for students in grades 7 through 12. The dates for this upcoming season's trips are: East Jr. High School - grades 7-9 - Jan. 30-Feb. 1, registration starts Thursday, Dec. 18; West Jr. High School - grades 7-9 - Jan. 30-Feb. 1, registration starts Monday, Dec. 22; high school - grades 10-12 - Feb. 6-8, registration starts Tuesday, Dec. 23; high school - grades 10-12 - Feb. 13-15, registration starts Wednesday, Jan. 7.

available at all Andover junior and senior high school main offices. Traditionally, these weekend trips have been extremely popular and fill up very quickly. Each of the four trips is limited to 45 skiers. All registrations will be accepted on a first come, first served basis. Since weekend reservations must be made months in advance, there is no possibility of adding an additional trip to handle an overflow of skiers. For additional trip information, students should listen to public address announcements at their schools or contact the Community Services office at the Doherty School.

Ski Program Registration Underway

The Department of Community Services, in conjunction with the Bradford Ski Area, is once again offering a ski program for third through ninth grade students of skiing levels from beginner through racer.

The four week program will begin the week of Jan. 5 and will run until each session has been completed. Schools will have their programs take place on the following days: Monday (Group 1) St. Augustine's, Bancroft, (Group 2) West Elementary and Shawsheen; Tuesdays (Group 3) East Jr. High School, West Jr. High School, (Group 4) South and Sanborn. Fee, rental and registration information is now available at all Andover elementary and junior high schools. Registration forms must be delivered to the DCS office - Doherty School - by 4:30 p.m. Monday, Dec. 29. Late registrations will not be accepted. The first 45 students registering for a single group will be placed on that group's roster. For further information, contact the Community Services office. Volunteer adult monitors are needed to help out with this program. Anyone who would like free skiing at Bradford Hill for helping out as trip monitors should get in touch with the DCS office as soon as possible.

THE TOWNSMAN, DECEMBER 18, 1980

By She Livermore

The Andover Church Basketball League's Junior Division got underway last week with 140 eight and nine-year-olds participating, the largest turnout in the league's history.

EAST DIVISION:

Christ A 16 - St. Augustine D 3

With two baskets in every quarter, Christ A toppled St. Augustine D 16-3. High scorer for Christ A was John Russell with eight points, followed by Eric Williams with six points and Steffin Tomlinson with a lone basket.

Andy Peck was the lone scorer for St. Augustine D. John Lewis and Tom DeBenedictus played good defense.

Ballardvale's six points were accumulated on baskets by Jodie Jangro, Chris Lowe and Lisa Campbell.

St. Augustine C 6 - South 1

South started the scoring in the first quarter on a free throw by Leo Fontaine. Scott Lanouette completed two free throws for St. Augustine in the second quarter. St. Augustine upped their total to six points in the final quarter when Jeff Edwards and Scott Lanouette tossed in a basket apiece, and won a 6-1 victory.

WEST DIVISION:

St. Robert C 13 - St. Augustine A 6

James Spinelli's first quarter basket put St. Robert C on the scoreboard. Baskets by eight-year-old Kevin Murphy, Stephen Spinelli and Mark Shwetz in the second quarter upped the lead to 10-0. With three more points in the third quarter, James Spinelli was the high scorer for St. Robert C.

St. Augustine's six points were all earned on tough shots by Brian Davies. Aggressive defense was supplied by Todd Goyette.

St. Robert A 8 - West Parish 6

The game was all tied up with two seconds remaining on the clock. Matt Perry stepped to the foul line for two free throws and when he completed both, St. Robert A won a hotly contested victory. Matt Perry contributed six points and Danny Fay tossed in a basket. Scott Livermore started off the scoring for West Parish. Scott Clementi tossed in a basket and Stefan Kelly completed two free throws. George Bilger and David Carnes contributed to the defense.

St. Augustine B 11- St. Robert B 5

Only Three Teams Remain Perfect

By Rick Harrison

After just two weeks of play West Parish B, St. Robert's C and Christ Church C are the only three clubs in the 13-team Andover Church Basketball League Intermediate Blue Division that remain undefeated.

West Parish B stayed perfect with a 36-17 triumph over South, while St. Robert's C belted Ballardvale United B, 43-20, and Christ C toppled St. Augustine F, 23-16.

In other Blue Division games at the South, West Elementary and West Junior High gyms, St. Robert's E dumped Christ B, 23-8, St. Augustine E stopped West Parish C, 23-14, Ballardvale A clipped St. Robert's, 20-14.

West Parish B, 36-17

West B trailed 3-0 and 5-2 in the early going, but tied the game 5-5 after one quarter and took command with a 14-2 second period run keyed by Matt Geiger.

West B, winning for the 12th time in the last 13 games over a two-year stretch, extended its advantage to 28-11 after three periods and outscored South 8-6 in the final stanza.

Matt Geiger and Andy Lee both turned in exceptional all-around performances for West B.

Geiger was game-high scorer with 15 points, 10 of them coming in the pivotal second period when he deposited five straight baskets. Matt also blocked several shots and corralled a number of rebounds.

Lee did another strong job as West B floor general, scoring 12 points (4-of-5 free throws), handling the South pressure, dishing off several pretty assists and playing strong defense.

Kurt Burzlaff flipped in 5 points and rebounded well, while Mike Lane and Jeff Larsen added fieldgoals.

Dave Sullivan, Robbie Thompson, Bill O'Brien, Mark Geiger and Robbie DiAdamo were other West B stalwarts.

John Todd contributed a solid performance for South, pocketing 11 points, while other baskets were netted by Scott Wilkins, Phil Stocking and Robbie Hendry.

Also playing well for South were Dave Sorrie and Dave Wade.

St. Robert's C, 43-20

St. Robert's C registered its second straight lopsided victory at West Elementary, grabbing leads of 15-6, 23-8 and 33-15 at the first three checkpoints.

Once again the Marotta twins and 10-year-old guard Matt Gibson were the leaders, combining for 37 points and controlling the backboards.

Cliff Marotta poured through a division single-game high of 20 points, Gary Marotta added 9 and Matt Gibson 8.

Greg DeVoir tossed in a pair of second half baskets, Jerry Nazzaro had a fourth quarter bucket, and defensive stalwarts were Eddie Sheehan and Dave Dilling.

Scott Jangro and Bobby Nutter powered the Ballardvale B counter-attack with 8 points each.

Andy Burke chipped in 4 points, and outstanding floor games came from John Bird (no relation to Larry) and Mike Mooney.

Christ C, 23-16

Trailing 14-11 after three quarters, Christ Church C put on a 12-2 fourth quarter blitz to overcome St. Augustine F at West Elementary.

St. Augustine took an 8-4 first period lead, thanks to four points apiece from Brian Costello and Sean Derrah, and the teams then traded points over the next two quarters.

However, Dave Pratt took charge for Christ C in the fourth session, pumping through eight points while Bob Beanland added four.

Pratt finished the game with 12 points, Beanland netted 6, Bart Kelkstein 3 and Jonathan Pratt 2.

Costello and Derrah shared team-high laurels for St. Augustine F with 6 points each. Bob Finneran and Todd McAllister stuffed third period baskets to complete the attack.

St. Robert's E, 23-8

Six players scored for St. Robert's E, which also broke open a close game with a fourth period explosion at West Junior High.

The winners were clinging to a slim 12-8 lead after three quarters, but iced the decision with a conclusive 11-0 burst over the final six minutes.

Mike Klinger paced St. Robert's with 6 points, Scott Plamondon pocketed 5, Ray Sheel 4, Jeff Masse 4, Tim Smith 2 and Mike French 2.

Chris Koch and Mark Hein played well defensively.

Adam Smith was the whole show on offense for Christ B, firing through a game-high 8 points.

Brad Wright and Sandra Lyons turned in hustling defensive performances for C-C.

St. Augustine E, 23-14

St. Augustine E used big first and third quarters to subdue West Parish C, as the victors grabbed a 12-2 first period edge and used a 6-0 third stanza spread to put the game away.

West C staged a nice fourth quarter rally (7-2), but it came a bit too late and fell short.

Steve Surette was the big gun for St. Augustine with 10 points, Glen Fortin delivered 4 and Bart Parker 3.

Mark Russell and Dave Schwind chipped in fieldgoals, while Andy Pauline swished a pair of free throws.

Jose Guerra, Mike Flynn and Brandon McCue were other notables.

Guard Mike DiMeo was game-high scorer for West Parish C, pouring through 12 points, while Kurt Nickerson added a basket.

Additional West C stalwarts were John Hess, Kyle Marcella, Sean Dyer, Jeff Petrakis and Mike Ouellette.

Ballardvale A, 20-14

Ballardvale A outpointed St. Robert's F 15-6 over the middle two quarters enroute to its 20-14 decision at South School.

Bantams Roll On

The Andover Bantam A hockey team extended their current winning streak in league competition to six games with impressive victories over Somerville and Swampscott this past week.

Andover 5 - Somerville 3

On Wednesday evening, Andover took on once beaten Somerville and skated away with a hard fought victory despite being shorthanded. After returning from their trip to Maine, the flu took its toll as six regulars missed the game. Skating with only two regular defensemen, Coach Donovan mixed and matched lines throughout the contest.

Andover fell behind 1-0 only 32 seconds into the game but rebounded to play Somerville even for the balance of the period. Numerous penalties on both sides during the second period prevented either team from getting a decided edge. However, with little over one minute left, Billy Donovan's (unassisted) blistering shot from 40 feet brought Andover even at 1-1.

Just over two minutes into the third period, the Bantams pulled ahead 2-1 as Jimmy Daly finished off a perfect setup by Mark Ala and Paul Rokicki. At this point both teams took turns scoring the next four goals. First, Somerville tied the score at two all at 8:48. Then, Rokicki (unassisted) put the Bantams back in front on his drive from outside the left face off circle at 7:11. However, Somerville came right back and tied the score at 5:56 on a blast from the blue line. Showing some tenacious forechecking, Andover began to assume control of the game. Within slightly over three minutes to play, Daly redirected Donovan's shot from the point making it 4-3. Dean LoPresti gave the Bantams some breathing room as Ken Crawford set him up for a rebound shot at 0:35 to make the final 5-3. Strong penalty killing performances were turned in by Shane Smith, Doug Guittar, John Marocco, Chris Morrison and Jeff Kennedy. Steve McDowell and Ray Cormier split the goaltending duties and turned back 11 Somerville shots.

Andover 7 - Swampscott 4

On Sunday evening, Andover took on one of the biggest teams around for the fourth time this season. The Bantams won two of the previous meetings in close scoring games. Andover's defensive corps of Frank Ferrara, Jon Crawford, Mike DelTrecco and Barry Brussard figured very heavily in the Bantam offense as they peppered the Swampscott goalie all night from the blue line.

The teams traded four first period goals with Mark Ala (Brussard, DelTrecco) and John Moracco (Donovan) pushing Andover ahead only to be tied by the end of the period at 2-2. The second period saw Swampscott take the lead at 4:58 after a seesaw battle throughout the period. Near misses by Marjerison, Smith, Morrison and Ken Crawford went for naught as the period wound down. With 1:30 left, the first unit brought the locals back as LoPresti (Daly, K. Crawford) made it 3-3. Off the ensuing face-off, Mark Ala (Donovan) picked up his second goal of the night to put Andover up 4-3 after two. For the second straight game, the Bantams came on strong in the third period. Jim Daly (J. Crawford) put Andover up by two at 8:32. After a Swampscott goal at 5:49, Daly (K. Crawford), on his second of the period, and Jon Crawford (Moracco) put the game out of reach with three minutes to play. Swampscott pulled to within two, 30 seconds later, but it was too late as Andover won 7-5. The Bantams outshot Swampscott 31 to 17. Again, McDowell and Cormier split the goaltending duties and each turned in a strong performance.

The Bantams will play their next game Sunday evening at 9 p.m. in Danvers against Agawam. After Christmas, games against South Boston at Wilmington on Friday, Dec. 26, at 10:30 a.m.

Steve and Scott Sarcione were the key performers for BU, producing 10 and 8 points respectively, while Jen Ward contributed a second quarter fieldgoal.

Jim Davis popped in 5 points, Sean Melia 4, Dave McSweeney 3 and Sam Durso stuffed a basket for St. Robert's.

John Slavin and Tim Melia were defensive stalwarts.

B.C., Dartmouth, Harvard Win

By Rick Harrison

Boston College, defending league playoff champion Dartmouth and Harvard all registered victories, as the Andover Youth Basketball League launched its Intermediate Division schedule last week at the West Junior High gym.

Boston College exploded in the second half to overpower Holy Cross, 35-18, Dartmouth used a big fourth quarter to trim North Carolina State, 30-20, and Harvard subdued defending regular season titlist Villanova, 20-14.

Boston College 35-18

Boston College needed one half to get untracked, but the Eagles were dynamite for the last two quarters as they overcame a 14-8 deficit by outscoring Holy Cross 27-4 down the stretch.

Buckets by Joe Hart, Lydia Wise and Eric Frank enabled BC to inch ahead 6-4 in the opening quarter, but Stu Leinson and Chris Colsia swished four point each for HC in the second session as the Crusaders bolted ahead.

Six points by Hart in the third period sparked a 12-2 BC burst, and in the final stanza, Hart (five points) and Lydia Wise (four) powered a 15-2 run that put the game out of sight.

Joe Hart finished as game-high marksman with 13 points, Lydia Wise added 8, Eric Frank 6, John Tateosian 4, Petr Derba 2 and Wendy Caruthers 2.

Frank also dished out several fine assists and Jim Baxter played well for the Eagles.

Chris Colsia was high man for Holy Cross with six points, Geoff Bolan and Stu Leinson netted four each, Curt Burzlaff had two and Andy Lascher two.

Burzlaff was also strong off the boards while Bolan, Eric Goodman and David Pickney starred defensively.

Dartmouth 30-20

Dartmouth, 13-3 last year, rallied in the second half to overcome North Carolina State 30-20.

The Big Green broke on top early behind a pair of baskets by Dave Vickers, but N.C. State battled back to a 6-6 tie after the first stanza as Rob DiTroia drove the lane for three lay-ups.

Rich Bourdelais, Mike Burke, Tom Deleire and Lance Kallfelz all registered fieldgoals to spark a 10-7 Wolfpack run in the second quarter, giving them a 16-13 halftime edge.

Steve Gemmell led the answering charge for Dartmouth with five points, and Larry Aiello added a fieldgoal.

Dartmouth outpointed N.C. State 17-4 in the second half, as the only offense mustered by the Wolfpack was a pair of buckets by DiTroia.

Matt Geiger netted three key hoops for the Big Green in the third quarter, as Dartmouth inched ahead 19-18, and the 11-2 last period surge featured seven points by Aiello and key buckets from Dave Noyes and Steve Gemmell.

Larry Aiello emerged as game-high scorer with 11 points, Steve delivered 7, Matt Geiger 6, Dave Vickers 4 and Dave Noyes 2.

Vickers, Aiello and John Twomey did a fine job bringing the ball upcourt, while Gemmell and Geiger were strong off the boards.

Phil Kendall added a hustling defensive performance, and other Dartmouth mainstays were Tony Lautieri, Lisa Horgan, Scott DeGregorio and Sue Grogan.

Rob DiTroia popped in 10 points for NCS, Rich Bourdelais notched 4, Mike Burke 2, Tom Deleire 2 and Lance Kallfelz 2.

Deleire, Bourdelais and DiTroia all rebounded well, while other Wolfpack leaders included Mike DiMeo and Tim Higgins.

Harvard 20-14

Harvard spotted Villanova a 5-0 first quarter lead, but gained a 10-8 halftime advantage and added to its lead very slowly thereafter.

John Perry's six points in the second period helped the Crimson take the lead.

Three Team Still Undefeated

By Rick Harrison

St. Robert's B and St. Augustine A remained among the three undefeated teams in the Andover Church Basketball League Intermediate Gold Division, both boosting their records to 2-0 with pulsating victories in last week's action at the West Junior High gym.

St. Robert's B outscored Christ Church A 9-0 in overtime to pull out a harder-than-it-looks 33-24 triumph, while St. Augustine A spotted St. Augustine C a 12-point first quarter lead before roaring back to capture a 37-33 decision.

In other Gold Division contests, St. Augustine D trimmed St. Augustine B, 32-23, and Temple Emanuel won its first game with a 24-16 conquest of St. Robert's A.

West Parish A (1-0) was idle.

St. Robert's B, 33-24

Gerry Nassif, Jeff Smith and Chris Sapuppo scored all the points in overtime, as St. Robert's B snapped a 24-24 deadlock enroute to its victory over last year's Blue Division titlist Christ A.

The game was close throughout regulation, with St. Robert's leading 4-3 after one quarter, Christ A inching ahead 14-13 at halftime, and C-C maintaining a slim 20-19 advantage after three periods.

However, in the fourth stanza, John Perry swished two free throws, Sapuppo hopped a basket and Smith canned a foul shot to offset C-C buckets by Beau Jones and Christ Scott.

Nassif then delivered two fieldgoals, Smith a basket and charity toss, and Sapuppo a basket as St. Robert's B controlled the OT period.

Overtime might have been avoided had it not been for a basketball rarity. Both teams shot at the wrong basket and scored for the opposition, with C-C scoring for St. Robert's in the opening half and the victors returning the "favor" in the second half.

John Perry led the St. Robert's attack with 10 points, Gerry Nassif netted 8, Jeff Smith 6, Chris Concemi 5 and Chris Sapuppo 4.

Chris Ring contributed another fine floor game for the winners.

Beau Jones led all marksmen with 11 points for Christ A, nine of them in the first half, while Billy Earnshaw chipped in 8 points.

Chris Scott pocketed 3 points, Doug

Rotundi had a fieldgoal, and other C-C notables were Keith Dauber, Andy Frost, Mark Polakow and Chris Graff.

St. Augustine A, 37-33

St. Augustine A started its second unit in the opening quarter, falling behind St. Augustine C by a wide 14-2 score, but the A-crew battled back over the final three periods to pull it out.

Chris Bartley pumped in eight points in the second period as the A-team closed to 18-17 at halftime, and Bartley added eight more to key a 13-7 run that put the winners ahead to stay (30-25).

Divisional scoring leader Bartley emerged as the top gun with 18 points, Paul Davies notched 8 and Tim Scanlon 5 points.

Mike Powers and Joe Hurley contributed fieldgoals for the A-squad, while Scott McAllister swished a pair of free throws.

John Morrow led six St. Augustine C scorers with 11 points, Steve McGettrick canned 8, Joe Hart 4, Frank Odium 4 and Dave Guerrero 4.

St. Augustine D, 32-23

St. Augustine D, sparked by the double figure performances of Chris Poor and Paul Sheedy, squared its record by slipping past St. Augustine B 32-23.

The winners inched out front 7-6 in the first quarter, led 17-12 at half, and made it 26-16 with a 9-4 run in the third stanza.

Chris Poor finished as game-high man with 16 points, all in the first three quarters, while Paul Sheedy chipped in 10 points.

Scott Wallace rounded out the offense with 6 points, while other D-team standouts were Walt Radulski and Tom Morton.

Scott Grant led the balanced B-team charge with 8 points, Alan Sillars and Mike Moriarty fired in 4 each, Maura Dunn 3, Drew Dunn two free throws and Paul Sapienza a fieldgoal.

Temple Emanuel, 24-16

First-year ACBL member Temple Emanuel collected its initial win, using 8-2 scoring edges in the first and third periods as the springboard to its triumph over St. Robert's A.

Adam Lieberman and Mitch Levine were the key men with 10 and eight points respectively, and both scored four in the opening quarter when Temple raced to its 8-2 advantage.

Paul Keller tossed in 4 points and Myles Greenberg 2 in rounding out the victors' assault.

Other strong efforts were contributed by Marci Lebowitz, Eric Shenker, Michelle Karas, Missy Labell and Judy Witover.

and in the second half, key baskets by Steve Redgate and Beau Jones preserved the win.

Perry was game-high scorer with 8 points, Jones chipped in 6, Redgate 4 and Bob Manning 1 fieldgoal.

Other Harvard standouts were Nick Coon, Jay Trepanier, Matt Dorsey and John Boloian.

Jon Yezerski flipped in six points for the Wildcats, John Nuzzo contributed five and Chris Poor, three.

Nuzzo also led the Villanova rebounding effort. Yezerski had several steals and Paul Valcourt was tough off the boards.

THE TOWNSMAN, DECEMBER 18, 1980

St. Augustine B ripped Ballardvale United 50-18, while St. Robert A nipped St. Robert B, 33-32, keeping those two winners undefeated atop the Andover Church Basketball League Senior Division.

In other divisional play last week, once-beaten West Parish dumped St. Augustine A 39-29. South Church drew a bye.

St. Augustine B 50-18

St. Augustine B bolted to a 7-2 first quarter lead, stretched that to 18-6 at halftime, and coasted home over the final two periods.

Seven different players hit the point column for the victors, with Tim Reilly swishing 13 points to lead the way.

Bob Scanlon chipped in eight points, Scott McNamara and David Angeropoulos popped in seven points apiece, Tom Brand added six, Jeff Wolnik five, and Peter Zompa, four.

St. Augustine hit a credible 16 of 30 charity tosses.

Merrimack Women Have Winning Edge

The Merrimack women's basketball team took off for the semester break with an overall record of three wins and two losses.

Two of the wins came in the past week.

On Dec. 12, they beat Worcester Polytechnical Institute in Worcester, 50 to 47. High scorers for Merrimack were Nancy Buturlia of North Andover, 11; Debbie Cogan, 17, and Karen Viglion, 12.

The following day, they beat American International College in Springfield, 56 to 50. Buturlia was top scorer with 18 and Janet O'Reilly next with 8.

On Dec. 10, Div. III Merrimack lost decidedly to Div. II St. Anselm's, 83 to 55.

Buturlia and Cogan were high scorers for Merrimack, with 10 and 11 respectively.

Their next game will be at New England College Jan. 19.

Antlers

The Ice Age Art exhibition at Boston's Museum of Science displays Irish Elk antlers some 12,000 years old, which were found in a peat bog in Limerick County, Ireland. The antlers have a span of 11 feet (3.3 m).

Christmas Tree

In the 1650's, German pilgrims brought their tannenbaum (Christmas tree) tradition to the new land, long before the practice took root in England.

Rod Hollenbeck led the answering fire for Ballardvale United with 13 points, while Cindy Connors accounted for five.

Tim Nolan, Jeff Znamierowski, Tom Darling and Scott Stephens were other Ballardvale standouts.

St. Robert A 33-32

St. Robert A defeated sister team St. Robert B when Paul Finnegan dropped in a bucket with 0:01 showing on the clock.

The B team led 3-2 after one period and 14-6 at halftime but the A team tied the score at 20-20 after three quarters.

The B team, powered by 10 points from Tim Perry, grabbed an early fourth quarter lead and did not relinquish it until Finnegan delivered his dramatic shot.

Finnegan finished with 14 points, Ed Melia and Robert Veilleux chipped in six markers apiece, while Chris Fay notched four and David Bates, three.

Tim Perry was game-high for St. Robert B with 23 points, Bill Foley netted three, while Joe Vecchi, Billy Deppe and Mike Melia notched single baskets.

West Parish 39-29

West Parish dominated both boards enroute to its convincing triumph over St. Augustine A.

The victors jumped to a quick 17-2 first period lead, paced by Jim Lowe with eight points and Glenn Livermore, six.

St. Augustine's closed the gap to 20-13 at halftime but Chris Marcella scored seven points in the second half to pad the winner's cushion.

Jim Lowe emerged as game-high scorer with 13 points, Marcella netted 10, Livermore, eight, Eric Nickerson scored four from the foul line, while single buckets were delivered by Lisa Marcella and Vinie Fichera.

PeeWee B Team Danvers League Andover 3 - Reading 2

Andover played a very strong game to even the season series with Reading at a tie and one win apiece. Reading opened with a strong offensive effort and was all over Andover in its own end, but the entire team worked hard and never panicked, and by mid-period they had taken over the momentum. By the end of the first period they had established the type of game they knew they had to play in order to win: beat the opposition to the puck and check close in both ends of the ice.

Dan Hagerty and Matt Young swapped right wing positions on their respective lines, and the move helped both lines. Hagerty had an assist on the game's third goal, when he picked up a loose puck high in the right circle and moved it to Kyle McCabe in front for a hard wrist shot through a screen. That one turned out to be the game winner. McCabe also had the opening goal from a fine move and feed by Mark Berberian on the left wing. Berberian had a partial break-in over the left circle, but elected not to move on the net. Continuing straight, he drew the defenseman behind the goal line before turning to the net, then slid a pass to McCabe at the post for a quick shot.

McCabe had an interesting experience in the third period when he lost the puck behind the Reading net and it slid into the goal from the back and came out in front. If you could score from either side, he would have had a "hat trick."

Young quickly got used to his new line, and in the second period seemed on his way to score on a breakaway, but was pulled down, which gave Andover the power play. With linemates Matt Alden and Chris Sapuppo and defensemen Peter Trede and Tom Herling, he put on a great show, but Reading held on and kept them off the board. Trede and Sapuppo did a fine job of checking and controlling play offensively and defensively, and combined for the second goal. Trede picked up a clearing attempt at defense and moved in a little for a wrist shot which Sapuppo redirected as it went by, and it slid under the goalie.

The Reading offense was strong, as it always is, and the defense had to be sharp. Mark Needham and Gregg Tormey were hard pressed, but stayed poised and steady throughout. And John Gangi made a number of excellent plays with dogged backchecking.

Despite the great team effort and many individual displays, the key to this win was the outstanding goaltending of Chris Hansberry. Andover's strong offensive game allowed numerous Reading breakouts, and even the inspired defensive play couldn't stop them all. Chris had to handle at least five one-on-one breakaways, and he stooped them all. And in between, he was tested by a number of hard shots. Reading got its goals on two of the few times that Andover let down, and either passed the puck around before being sure they had set up, or fell back into the defensive zone and failed to forecheck.

Bill Bruno's line, with Dave Riddiford and Mike Nelligan on the wings, wasn't in on the scoring as they usually are. But they provided some exciting offense, and more important, they played as "checking line", keeping Reading from getting good chances. Neither Reading goal was scored while they were on the ice.

With the season only one-third over, these two fine teams can look forward to more head-to-head challenges in both the Danvers and Wilmington Leagues.

Wilmington League Andover 1 - Somerville 4

Andover tried hard to play solid basic hockey, but ran up against a disciplined and physical Somerville team which did the same thing more efficiently. It was a game of skating your lane, passing to the open man, beating your opponent to the puck, checking close, and taking the body when you could. And Somerville had a better day at it. They opened with two early goals, before Andover could settle down, and they played it close and waited for the breaks.

Andover's steadiest line was Mark Berberian, Kyle McCabe and Matt Young. They had the lone score on a sharp passing play when Berberian picked up a clear-in at the left corner and gave McCabe a pass to the left post. McCabe drew the goalie over just enough to slide a pass over to Young at the other side for a quick shot before the goalie could recover. They continued to provide steady offensive play, and later almost scored again when they reversed the passing pattern, but Mark was robbed by a hot Somerville goalie. They also put on an impressive power play with Brian Gibson and Tom Herling in the first period.

As Andover settled down, Dave Riddiford and Bill Bruno combined to put on some heavy pressure in a four-on-four situation, and in the third period, worked well with defensemen John Gangi and Gibson to not only kill off a penalty, but create a couple of scoring chances in the process.

Chris Sapuppo's strong forechecking was an important factor in several scoring attempts, setting up some good chances with linemates Dan Hagerty and Matt Alden. And Peter Trede's offense-minded play from his defenseman's position began some good rushes into the Somerville zone. Chris Hansberry and Tim Adams played steady goal, and Gregg Tormey with Mark Needham contributed some good work in clearing things out in front of the net. But Somerville was more consistent, took better advantage of the breaks, and made fewer mistakes, and came away with a well deserved win.

PeeWee A

The PeeWee A's latest run of prosperity did not last very long. After putting together a five game win streak over the previous two weeks, the A's lost back to back games over last weekend. On Saturday, an invisible shield seemed to descend over the goalmouth as the A's lost to Haverhill 4-2 in Wilmington despite outshooting the Hillies 32-12. The shield moved to Danvers on Sunday as Andover fell to Swampscott 6-4 while outshooting the opposition 31-14. Hopefully, the weekend used up the season's ration of bad luck.

Haverhill 4 -Andover 2

The first two periods of the Haverhill game were fairly evenly played. Andover had a 14-10 shot advantage but the respective goalies, particularly Andover's Greg Najjar and Kenny Young, came up with several good stops. As usual, Andover's Cort Pomeroy-Mosa Kaleel-David Bartle line kept the opposing defensemen and goaltender very busy. The first break of the game went Andover's way early in the second period when David Young scored a goal off a nice setup by Shannon McCabe and Stevie Donovan to make it 1-0 Andover. The play of Andover defensemen Earl Abdoo, Matt Shine, David Curtis and Paul Gilmartin was outstanding throughout the game, limiting Haverhill to 10 shots on net over the first two periods and only two shots in the third period.

Haverhill had taken a 2-1 lead by the end of the second period but Stevie Donovan scored a goal on a very fine individual effort early in the third period to tie the game up at 2-2. Assists on the score went to Shannon McCabe (his second of the game) and Timmy Donovan. Jeff McNeil, Mark Neaves, Jamie O'Brien and Georgie Heseltine then all had one or more good scoring bids stopped before the turning point of the game came. A Haverhill forward picked up a loose puck at center ice and broke for the net. Defenseman Matt Shine caught up with him and rode into the boards and out of the play. The referee, however, whistled for a penalty shot and Haverhill scored for a 3-2 lead. The 4-2 final came despite Andover's 18 shots on net in a third period which saw Haverhill spend almost the entire time fending off Andover's offense.

Swampscott 6 - Andover 4

The balck cloud hung over the A's again on Sunday when they lost 6-4 to a Swampscott team which they outplayed in every aspect of the game except scoring. Andover got caught in a line change and gave up an early first period goal but came back to lead 2-1 before the end of the period. Mark Neaves finished off an Andover offensive flurry at the six minute mark to tie it up at one. The point play of Stevie Donovan and David Curtis, who earned an assist on the play, helped set up the score. Paul Gilmartin's solo effort with five seconds left in the period made it 2-1 Andover. Greg Najjar made several good saves to anchor Andover's defense.

Swampscott scored two quick goals in the second period to take a 3-2 lead. Forwards Timmy Donovan, Shannon McCabe and Jeff McNeil led Andover's offense in the middle period, applying constant pressure in the Swampscott zone. Andover's defensemen, particularly Matt Shine and Earl Abdoo, played very well in the period despite the two goals, holding Swampscott to six shots on net.

Georgie Heseltine stole the puck deep in the Swampscott zone and whistled a quick wrist shot by the goalie to tie the game up at 3-3 just over two minutes into the third period. Six minutes later David Young snapped one in from fifteen feet out off a Cort Pomeroy pass to give Andover a 4-3 lead. Sloppy Andover play gave Swampscott two goals in the next two minutes and suddenly prospects for a victory vanished. Andover pulled Kenny Young in favor of a sixth skater over the final two minutes but could not get the tying goal despite a flurry of testing shots off the sticks of Mosa Kaleel, David Bartle, and Jamie O'Brien. Swampscott scored an empty net goal late in the game for the final 6-4 count. Andover played more than well enough to win most games but ran into a hot goalie and two very wide goal posts.

Arlington 1 - Andover 0

Arlington's undefeated PeeWee A's visited Phillips Academy on Monday night and barely escaped with their unblemished record intact. Either team could have walked away with the victory, as each team managed but 14 shots on net. There could not have been more than a dozen whistles in the game, which was as fast moving and cleanly played a game as the A's have played in all season.

The only goal of the game came midway through the second period when an Arlington forward made a very nice move out of the corner, faked two Andover players and put the shot by the Andover goalie. Each of Andover's 10 forwards contributed significantly to this outstanding team effort. Mosa Kaleel, David Bartle, Cort Pomeroy, Georgie Heseltine, Mark Neaves, Stevie Donovan, David Young, Timmy Donovan, Shannon McCabe and Jeff McNeil all gave 110% every time they were out on the ice. Matt Shine, Earl Abdoo, and Gilmartin and David Curtis individually and collectively played their best games of the year on defense as did goalies Kenny Young and Greg Najjar. Unfortunately, the team's best effort was not quite enough on this particular night as Arlington made the one goal stand up for the victory. Andover hit the post to the goalie's left on the tying goal attempt as the final buzzer sounded.

Squirt B

Andover's all rookie Squirt B team lost two games last weekend, one to a superior Charlestown team on Saturday in Danvers and the second to an equal level Littleton team on Sunday at Phillips Academy. With a little luck and a break here or there, Andover's B's could have beaten Littleton. They will get a chance to try later in the season when they travel to Littleton for the return match.

Charlestown 10 - Andover 2

Andover ran into a much more experienced team when they faced Charlestown on Saturday. Andover made a game of it in the early going, trailing only 2-0 at the end of the first period. With Michael Murnane playing very well in goal, the B's managed to exert some offensive pressure of their own. Andover's most effective unit in the first period included forwards Michael DiStefano, Jonathan Shine, and Randy Moreau, and defensemen Danny Iandoli and Michael Tiberii.

After Charlestown had made it 3-0 on a power play early in the second period, Todd Roycroft brought Andover back into the game by banging in the rebound of a hard David Sopp shot. Gary Bleszinski, John Constantine and Jimmy Morris each had good scoring bids stopped before Charlestown scored three quick goals to make it 6-1 entering the final period. Andover defensemen Timmy Sullivan and D.J. Camarota played very well in the period especially when Andover was shorthanded.

Matty Pothier scored on a nice breakaway midway through the third period for Andover's second goal. Charlestown scored four more times before the game was over for the final 10-2 count despite some fine saves by goalie Michelle DiStefano. The B's are now in the lower middle part of the standings in the Danvers League.

Littleton 5 - Andover 2

Andover played Littleton on Sunday in a contest which was more of a controlled scrimmage than a game. The teams were fairly evenly matched and the results could well be different the next time they meet.

Littleton had built a 3-0 before Michael DiStefano rapped in the rebound of a Matty Pothier shot to make it 3-1. The goal came after Matty, Michael and right winger Jonathan Shine had put a lot of pressure on Littleton's goalie and defensemen. Their offensive efforts were aided by the good point play of defensemen D.J. Camarota and Timmy Sullivan. Todd Roycroft, David Sopp and Gary Bleszinski came out on the next shift but were unable to score despite constant offensive pressure. Matty Pothier scored Andover's second goal shortly afterward for his seventh goal in his last three games.

Andover was also able to keep the puck in the Littleton zone fairly consistently in the third period, but could not score. The pressure came chiefly when Eddie Chaisson, Eric Cutler, John Constantine, Jimmy Morris and Randy Moreau were on the ice. Danny Iandoli turned in his usual steady game on defense for Andover making things a little easier for goalies Michelle DiStefano and Michael Murnane who both played well despite the loss. Andover plays again on Saturday at 5:30 against Swampscott.

Holiday Safe Driving Tips

THE TOWNSMAN, DECEMBER 18, 1980

The Christmas-New Year holiday season is a special time for all of us; a time of reunion and celebration with family and friends.

"Unfortunately, it is also one of the most hazardous times of the year, particularly on the highways," notes Arthur D. Moriarty, executive vice president of the Massachusetts Safety Council.

"Each year, traffic accidents claim hundreds of lives throughout the country, and tragically, 1980 may prove to be no different."

This he ads, is the result of a combination of factors.

"More cars are on the road as families and friends get together for the holidays, more alcohol is traditionally consumed, and bad weather — ice, cold and snow — can make driving dangerous."

Last year, 1,490 people were killed in this country while driving during the two, 4-day Christmas and New Year weekends, and a total of 20 died in Massachusetts.

"We hope we do not approach those figures this year," states Moriarty. "However, the probability is that the two, 4-day weekends combined could result in between 15 and 25 highway deaths in this state."

For the upcoming holidays, Moriarty and the Massachusetts Safety Council have these safety suggestions for motorists:

Before setting out in your car, make sure the windshield is free of ice or snow to assure good visibility. Take a few minutes, too, to clean off headlights and rear lights so that other vehicles can see you. This is particularly important when the weather is bad.

For long or short trips, get an early start! Keep your speed down (especially in inclement weather, or while driving at dusk or at night), and maintain a safe following distance from other cars. Don't tailgate. Remember, it takes 3 to 9 times longer to stop on an icy or snowy road than it does on a dry highway.

If your car starts to skid, don't panic! Take your foot off the accelerator and countersteer in the direction you want to go. When your wheels regain traction, pump the brakes until you come to a full stop.

When driving in snowy weather always use low beams. Falling snow reflects light, so using high beams will only make it more difficult to see other motorists and the road.

Always use seat belts and make sure children buckle up too.

When attending holiday parties, keep the "1 for 1" rule in mind. That's one drink an hour or wait one hour for each drink you've consumed before getting behind the wheel of a car. It takes your body an hour to eliminate the alcohol in one drink.

A good host will close the bar at least an hour before his guests are expected to leave. In the interim, serve your guests coffee and snacks to give them that extra time for their bodies to eliminate any alcohol in their bloodstreams.

Finally, at this special time of the year, be on your best driving behavior.

League

The Department of Community Services is now accepting rosters from teams looking to play in this year's Girls Basketball League. The league will once again be broken up into two divisions: Elementary (Grades 4-6) and Junior High School (Grades 7-9). Girls are encouraged to pick up information and roster sheets which are now available at the main offices of all Andover elementary and Junior High Schools. As in the past, girls are asked to form their own team and to recruit their own adult coach. Those girls who are not able to get on a squad or find a coach are invited to register at the Bancroft Elementary School Gymnasium at 9 a.m. on Saturday, Dec. 20. The department will make every effort to place each registering girl on a team and to locate a coach for that team.

League play will begin on Saturday, Jan. 17. A clinic featuring a review of fundamental basketball skills and specific league rules will take place on January 10. The deadline for submitting team rosters is Friday, Dec. 19. For further information, contact the Community Services office Monday through Friday between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

South In Song

By Laurie Lewis

The "Career of the Month" program, presented by the Andover High School guidance department, is definitely a step in the right direction for career-oriented students.

A career directory has been organized that is very useful to the students. Last year Andover High School sent out letters to the parents of each student asking them to come to the school to talk about their career. There were well over 100 responses that were categorized and the "Career of the Month" series was developed. This school year (from Oct. 1980 to May 1981) the following careers are being explored: medical and allied health careers, fine arts, aviation, sales, language arts, practical arts, engineering, physics, computer science, recreation and tourism, and social studies.

Students who are interested in the various careers and students who will someday be consumers are taking advantage of this program.

Bringing adults and professionals who reside in Andover to discuss their careers with the students adds a personal touch. The adults of the community are contributing a valuable service to the school, and every student has the opportunity to benefit from this first hand knowledge.

Some of the speakers pass out pamphlets of information, and these are put in the multi-purpose room in the guidance area, as well as in the library. If one of these two places does not have any information on a specific topic, the guidance department wants to know, so the void will be filled. As Winston Ryan, guidance counselor at the high school, surmises, "Every occupation, regardless of skill involved, has dignity." Therefore, the guidance department will gladly accept any information regarding any career, and attempt to include it in this career awareness program.

WESTern Roundup

By Kathy Mulvey and Mary Driscoll

The members of two more basketball teams were chosen last week at West Junior High. Miss Kennedy's girls' team will consist of 14 players: freshmen Laurie Bourdelais, Debbie Flieder, Katie Gingras, Debbie Harmoning, Judy MacDonald, Kathy Mulvey, Mary Appel, Dawn Thompson, and Lorna Turgiss and eighth graders Sue Sellers, Katie D'Urso, Kathy Kimball, Joanne Martin, and Kathy Neaves. They will play their first game Friday, Dec. 19, against Billerica.

Arthur Nichols chose the eighth grade boys who will represent West on his team this winter. Congratulations to Kraig Burzlaff, Bobby Charland, Chris Comparato, Mark Doherty, Brian Finnerty, Pedro Gleason, Paul Lambers, Billy Lane, Glen Livermore, Tim Perry, Jeff Poor, Dan Sheehan, Andy Thomson and Billy Weidman.

The names of two boys were omitted from the freshman basketball roster published last week. Our sincerest apologies for that error go to Peter Comeau and John Duffy.

A Math Poster Contest is being conducted in order to interest seventh and eighth grade students who excel in math in participating in the New England Mathematics Contest. These students will be practicing throughout January for the contest to be held on Feb. 3. The five highest scorers in each grade will become the team representing WJH. The three students responsible for creating the posters which are judged the best under an established set of criteria will be rewarded with pizza from the Depot.

The annual Christmas concert was held this Tuesday night, Dec. 16, at 7:30, the West Side Singers, the Girls' Glee Club, and the Boys' Glee Club, the handbell choir and the WJH band participated in the festive event. It will be performed for the entire school on Friday, Dec. 19. Much time was devoted to practice of the presentation, and it should encourage the holiday spirit in all who see it.

Unplug your holiday lighting when you leave the house or go to bed. Never leave it unattended. Disconnect or turn off lights when changing bulbs and make sure there are no empty light sockets.

Vandalism Focus Of Students

A bulletin board display contest and a student "vandalism watch" are among the continuing efforts of West Junior High students to alert everyone to the high cost of vandalism in Andover's public schools.

Students in each WJH homeroom recently created bulletin board displays to draw attention to the vandalism problem. First-prize winners were David Gangi's Homeroom 20 and James Whyte's Homeroom 32.

Second-prize winners in the display contest were Kenneth Sanford's Homeroom 2 and Margaret Serley's Homeroom 14, while third prize went to Patricia Flaherty's Homeroom 4.

Honorable mentions went to Jack Warden's Homeroom 6, and Mary Sipsey's Homeroom 16.

School Superintendent Dr. Kenneth Seifert, Police Chief James Johnson, and Plant Engineer Alfred Hart recently toured West to view the results of the students' "Vandalism Watch," and noted the excellent condition of the school.

Under the watch, groups of students daily monitor both the inside and outside of the school for signs of vandalism, such as graffiti, and immediately correct the damage, if any is found. Each student homeroom serves as the monitoring group on a monthly rotating schedule.

Principal William E. Hart credits student leaders and Steven Tisbert, faculty coordinator, with helping to keep West Junior High a vandalism-free school.

LEGEND OF THE CLADDAGH RING

According to this fascinating legend, which began in Galway, Ireland more than 400 years ago, the crown represents loyalty, the hands friendship, and the heart love. When a man gives the ring to his girl, it symbolizes that she will hold his heart in her hands, and the same is true when a girl gives the ring to her man. The ring is worn in friendship when the crown points away from the wrist, and symbolizes engagement when the ring is reversed.

Give Christmas Dinner, Music For Elderly

Several West Jr. High pupils presented a Christmas dinner and musical program for the elderly last Thursday, Dec. 11.

It was an opportunity for the students to put into practice the skills learned in the classroom. They were pupils of Mrs. Joanne Devney, homemaking teacher, who trains them in the preparation and serving of meals.

West has a student-operated restaurant which allows the students to buy, prepare and serve meals on a weekly basis, and further trains them to assist in community projects such as this dinner for the elderly.

Participating in the Christmas event were Ellen Goodman, Debbie Ozoonian, Cheryl Hough, Beth Conlon, Donna Melnikas, Dodi Powell, James Fearing, Jeffrey Jancyak, Jessica Powers, Kevin Bardsley, John Williams, Kelly Egan and Amy McLaughlin.

City Hall Tours

Free tours of Boston City Hall are offering Monday through Friday, 10 to 3. Reservations are suggested for groups. At Government Center.

Outing Club On The Trail

The West Junior High School Outing Club usually concludes its fall season in early November. However, when a group of students came forward with a request to go horseback riding, John Darrin, Brian Staples, and Lester Taylor weighted the proposal and agreed that there was sufficient interest to warrant an extension of the season.

Arrangements were made with the Back Acres Farm in Raymond, N. H. to provide horses for participants of all abilities. Staples led the group over the trails. Riders participating included Andy Schulz, Kerri Smith, Erin Kelley, Michelle Keller, Angie VanDerWieler, Rebecca Lury, Leah Lury, Jeff Kuo, Dean Knight, David R. Cox, Marie Belanger, Chris Atwood, Brenda Nolin, Karen Travers, Nicoile LeBlanc, Kim McGinley, Russell Henderson, John Tomlinson, Beth Deacon, Larry Prestia, Lisa Oberst, Arlene Ciaccia, Lucille Scioili, Kelly Conley, and Chris Scanlon.

Christmas Tree Lights

The Boston Office of the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission warns of possible fire and shock hazards associated with Christmas tree lights. CPSC suggests you examine all of your light sets before you decorate. Check for sockets that are cracked or broken; look for exposed bare wire. When purchasing new sets look for UL or NOEL label. Never string more than 200 midget lights through any one string or cord.

To report a product hazard or for a free fact sheet on Christmas tree lights, call 1-800-638-8326.

Holiday Home At Bancroft

Bancroft students have been going to the principal's office often lately, but not for discipline. They come to gaze at the gingerbread house made by Jennifer Webster, 213 Salem St., a second-grader at the Bancroft School.

A number of area residents have been named to the dean's list at Northeastern University, for the past quarter.

Hot Toddlies

Hot rum toddies and eggnog are traditional Yuletide "warmers" in America. In Yorkshire, England, people "sup" ale possets for luck...they're a mixture of warm milk, ale, beer, and wine, often quite heavily spiced.

The Przewalski horse, a wild species of central Asia, is the very animal shown in 12,000-year-old cave paintings, according to the Ice Age Art exhibition at Boston's Museum of Science.

Andover West Junior High School yesterday hosted a cultural series for foreign language students.

A group of Spanish dancers, Ramon DeLos Reyes, demonstrated and performed various types of Spanish dances. Also, they demonstrated some of the musical instruments used during the dances.

Vacation Programs At Science Museum

This year school vacation visitors to Boston's Museum of Science will find an unusual variety of attractions, from film taken deep under the sea, to living tropical ants, to a revolutionary human-powered aircraft.

The vacation time also offers the last opportunity to see the Ice Age Art exhibition and the Christmas Planetarium program, both of which run through Dec. 31 only.

Among new exhibits is the Gossamer Albatross, an aircraft pedaled across the English Channel to win a $200,000 prize. With a wingspan of 96 feet, it is the largest of the Museum's exhibits. Accompanying it are informative panels of text and photos and a film of its 1979 flight.

Also new is Volcanic Valleys of the Sea, a display explaining continental drift and the startling, unsuspected life forms that exist where the plates of the earth's crust move apart. A film taken from the research submarine, Alvin, gives a rare view of earth's subterranean depths.

"Insects: Another World" is a third new exhibit, featuring live ants in a see-through case which reveals their complex lifestyle usually hidden under the soil. The exhibit also contains the oldest butterfly fossil ever found, push-button devices to show how a bee sees flowers, how a cricket makes sounds, and how odors influence insects.

The traveling Ice Age Art exhibition, which contains artifacts made between 35,000 and 10,000 years ago, is the first such comprehensive collection to be presented in this country. It depicts the cultural sophistication of early humans in cave paintings, engravings, tools, and costume decorations.

The special children's Planetarium program, The Winter Wishing Star, is a fairy tale of adventure among the stars. Given at 4 p.m. Dec. 26 and 27 only, it is open free to children under five, who are not admitted to other Planetarium programs. The regular Planetarium Christmas program describes the relationship of holiday customs and traditions to astronomical events of the season.

In the Discovery Room visitors of all ages explore real objects and scientific tools in a hands-on experience. The room is open during the vacation period every day except Monday from 1 to 4 p.m. On Dec. 31 it is open from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

During school vacation week, the Museum is open Friday from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m.; Saturday 9 to 5; Sunday 10 to 5; Monday and Tuesday 9 to 5.

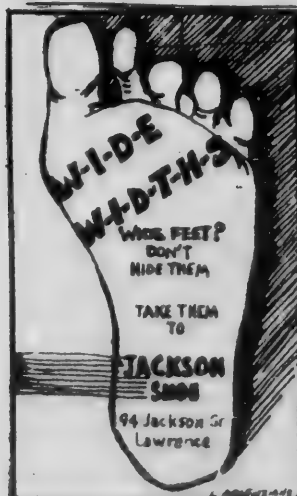

It closes at 2 p.m. Dec. 24 and Dec. 31, and is closed Christmas and New Year's Day. Hours on Jan. 2 to 4 are the same as the previous weekend.

Western Stars

"Western Stars" were honored at a luncheon hosted by William E. Hart, principal of Andover West Junior High School. These students were cited for Character, Citizenship, Courtesy, Cooperation and Commitment. From left clockwise from Hart, Peter Comeau, Colleen Johnson, Gregory Saulnier, Scott Minor, Katie D'Urso, Thomas DeLeire, Donna Dubanowitz, Judith Fournier, Sara Sapuppo, Maura King, and Gemma Park.

Airman Michael J. Polizutti, son of Alice M. Polizutti of 340 Waverly Road, and Charles J. Polizutti of 297 Middlesex St., both of North Andover, has been assigned to Chanute Air Force Base, Ill., after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the aircraft maintenance field.

Tradition once dictated that ornaments were never hung on the tree before Christmas Eve, usually very fragile and delicate, they were cherished heirlooms that were to be passed on to each generation.

Holiday Safety Around The House

The approaching holiday season is a special time for all of us; a period that should not be marred by accidents or injuries of any kind.

To prepare for the upcoming holidays, the Massachusetts Safety Council recommends that you conduct a pre-holiday review of safety procedures in your home to reduce the chances of mishaps around your house.

The Council offers the following information for an accident-free holiday:

Lighted candles and Christmas tree lights can be a fire hazard. Always inspect lights for frayed wires or defective sockets. When buying lights, check for the UL label. Don't string lights on metallic trees, and always unplug them before retiring at night.

Keep lighted candles away from trees or decorative evergreen boughs. Candles should only be used with glass containers designed for candle illumination.

Whether making or buying holiday decorations, be sure they're non-combustible or flame retardant.

Gift wrappings, boxes, cartons and packing materials burn fast and generate high heat. Never use them in fireplaces or woodstoves.

Don't overload extension cords or scatter cords on the floor during the holidays no matter how temporary the situation might be.

the theatre will be about half full." DeFillipo will not be allowed to screen X-rated films under the terms of his lease, Bloom emphasized.

The developer also presented plans for the redesign of the plaza parking lot, as suggested by the town, which he said would help improve the traffic flow in and out of the shopping center.

Police officers will also be retained to direct traffic during "peak hours" on Fridays and Saturdays. Blooff indicated.

Atty. Domenic Terranova, representing the theatre owner, agreed with Bloom that "capacity crowds will be rare." He added that DeFillipo has "committed an exceptionally large amount of money into seating, the interiors, and projection equipment for this theatre."

"Mr. DeFillipo would like the good will of the community," the attorney indicated. "The last thing the operator wants is for the facility not to be patronized, for whatever reason."

Police Lieutenant Hector Patullo, representing Chief James Johnson, said the police chief has not seen plans for the plaza redesign. However, the chief does believe a traffic control light would be more effective than an officer directing traffic, the lieutenant said.

Bloom promised to forward plans to both the police and fire departments.

Selectman Norma Gammon suggested the developer add sidewalks leading to the theatre, particularly for children; Bloom, however, said he did not think the access road was wide enough to allow sidewalks.

Gammon's suggestion prompted Rossitto to remark that the plaza "has never been made safe" for pedestrians. Selectman Jerry Silverman then recommended that a walkway painted along the Shawsheen River border of the plaza be raised, and a curb added.

Rossitto said Tuesday that a walkway should be added from North Main Street directly to the theatre.

Selectmen Chairman James Abramson emphasized Monday night that the selectmen have no jurisdiction over the plaza project, other than to grant a motion picture license to DeFillipo, as they have done.

The purpose of the meeting was to "see whether we can work as a conduit among the various groups involved," he explained.

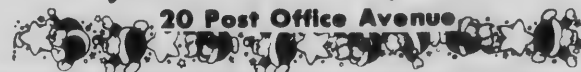

The Shawsheen residents intend to stay in contact with the plaza developer, and offer further proposals: "We certainly want to follow it," Rossitto said Tuesday. "But it's going to be sad. I hope the town opens its eyes next time."

approved by the board of selectmen.

Andover has a new citizen, one honored by his fifth-grade classmates at the Sanborn School. Giuliano Procopio, 4 Tessier Drive, officially received citizenship on Dec. 11. Formerly of Roma, Italy, he entered the United States in 1965.

The school committee spent most of its final 1970 session talking about playgrounds during a snowstorm, and gave its approval to initial plans for a combined Doherty School-community outdoor recreation center.

Teenagers will be able to vote in the town election in March and at town meeting. The Supreme Court ruling validating voting in national elections for 18-year-olds combined with the recent state vote allowing voter privileges to those 19 and over will thus permit teen-age participation in municipal operations. The 18-year-olds will not be able to vote in local or state elections.

Andover voters in precincts four and five will be voting in new places in March. Town Clerk Elden R. Salter reported this week that precinct four voters will now vote at the new West School auditorium. Voters had previously used Grange Hall at Shawsheen Road. Precinct five voters who formerly cast ballots at the Community building in Ballardvale will now vote at the South school.

Andover can take the lead in maintaining the Shawsheen river as a clean stream and safe for swimming, if a proposal made to the Ecology Committee of the Andover Chamber of Commerce is accepted.

Salem State Offers Art Courses

Salem State College will offer four courses in art appreciation or studio art during its regular January 19-May 12 evening session — Introduction to Art, Teaching Art in the Elementary School, Form and Design, and Modern and Contemporary Art.

Introduction to Art (FA100) will be taught by Prof. Thomas Leary of Manchester; Teaching Art in the Elementary School (FA100) by Prof. Nicholas Wagman, Jr., of Marblehead; Form and Design (FA200) by Prof. Arthur Smith of Lynn; and Modern and Contemporary Art (FA230) by Prof. Vito Sammartano of Salem.

Registration will continue through Jan. 14. For details, contact the Division of Graduate and Continuing Education, Salem State College, Salem, MA 01970. Students may take art courses for enrichment or as part of the bachelor's degree program in Fine Arts.

Prof. Thomas Leary works with environmental watercolors and oil paintings. He is a graduate of San Jose State College and the California College of Arts and Crafts. Introduction to Art (Thursdays, 7-9:30 p.m.) will examine such visual arts as painting, sculpture, and architecture as styles of human expression and creativity.

Teaching Art in the Elementary School (Wednesdays, 7-9:30 p.m.) examine various media and experiments with elements of art and principles of design. Prof. Nicholas Wagman, Chairperson of the Art Department, graduated from the University of Pittsburgh and studied at Carnegie Mellon University. He is a jeweler and sculptor as well as an art education expert.

Form and Design (Mondays, 4:30-6:45 p.m.) provides workshop experience to develop concepts of form and space with wood, plaster, metal and plastics. Prof. Arthur Smith is a graduate of the Massachusetts College of Art and Tufts University and deals with non-objective paintings and three dimensional designs.

Modern and Contemporary Art (Tuesdays, 4:30-6:45 p.m.) studies art movements from 1870 to the present and interprets their relationship to modern art and culture. Prof. Vito Sammartano, a graduate of Massachusetts College of Art and Westfield State College, focuses on environmental painting of New England scenes in contemporary "hard-edge" style.

Astronomy Workshop Planned

Junior high students have an opportunity to explore the subject of astronomy in an Astro-workshop starting Sat., Jan. 10 at Boston's Museum of Science, 9:30-10:30 a.m.

Two adult courses also start in January, The New Astronomy, and Basic Navigation.

Astro-workshop is an activity oriented series of 10 meetings which feature round-table discussion and projects. Participants make star maps, build a spectroscope, and design a telescope. They use Planetarium equipment and see films of celestial phenomena.

Running from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m., the astro-workshop costs $40 with a $10 discount for Family and Contributing Members.

The New Astronomy course presents the results of the most recent space probes, from discoveries about Jupiter's atmosphere, to findings about Saturn's moons. It includes the x-ray observations made by the Einstein satellite, as well. Enhanced color photos from NASA and the use of the Planetarium's special effects are among the distinctive additions to the course.

Starting Jan. 15, the course is on eight Thursday evenings, from 7 to 9.

Basic Navigation starts Wed., Jan. 14 for eight sessions, 7-9 p.m. Intended for people who wish to learn how to make their way along the coast in small craft, the course teaches modern navigation methods and the navigation process. It also explains procedures to follow at night and when visibility is low. A brief discussion of celestial navigation is included. (The course is a prerequisite for the Museum's course in celestial navigation, given in the spring.)

The Custom Of Hanging Stockings

The custom of hanging up a stocking by the chimney on Christmas Eve probably evolved from a legend surrounding the generosity of St. Nicholas. In the saint's hometown lived a man who had lost all his money through a string of unlucky events. The man had three daughters, but since he could not provide a dowry for any of them, it seemed doubtful they would ever marry.

St. Nich learned of their predicament and resolved to help them. Since he wanted no recognition or credit for his deed, he quietly came to their house at night and tossed three bags of gold, one for each girl, down the chimney. Each time, the legend tells us, the bag of gold landed in a stocking that was hanging by the fire to dry.

The Bird Pole

All of the Scandinavian countries have the custom of the bird pole at Christmas. During the fall harvest, special sheaves of grain are tied up and set aside. When Christmas arrives, the bundles are tied to poles by the gate, in the field, or on the barn roof.

Toy Safety

For kids' sake, think about toy safety. Choose toys with care; select the right toy for the child. The Boston Office of the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission recommends that consumers read toy label recommendations. Be especially aware of small parts where children under three are concerned. Electrical toys are recommended for children over the age of eight, while skateboarders should be at least 12 year old.

For free toy safety information, call toll free 1-800-638-8326.

Customers may also continue to turn in equipment at any of the telephone company's PhoneCenter stores in Massachusetts, and receive the same $5 credit for return of their instruments.

ACRE VS THE MANZANA

The acre— 43,560 square feet—is a strange measure. Did you ever wonder how this figure was arrived at? Probably not, but I'll tell you anyway.

A few centuries ago, an acre was considered to be the amount of land a man could plow in a day with a yoke of oxen. The British Weights and Measures Act of 1878 defined it as containing 4,840 square yards and this "statute" acre was adopted by Canada and the United States.

If you are of the internationally-landed inclination, be very careful about offers of parcels of acres in foreign countries. The English, Canadian, and U.S.A. acre doesn't mean a thing in other countries. Here are a few examples:

In Argentina, the unit is called a Manzana and it measures 2.47 acres. In Austria, the Joch measures 1.42 acres. A ten-acre Siberian salt mine will actually measure 27 of our acres. And if you decide to buy some waterfront property along the Brazilian Amazon, remember that the Brazilian Hectare measures 2.47 acres.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

Sick Leave

is a significant amount of sick leave abuse," Clark said during an interview Friday. "Attacking waste is very different from attacking public safety.

"The rhetoric, let's protect public safety, has to be examined by the selectmen and by the public for its true meaning."

The real issue with police officers, he suggested, may be the loss of extra income from overtime pay.

"Public safety does not have to be at stake," he reported. "What is at stake is the opportunity for police and firefighters to earn overtime pay when filling shift vacancies as a result of sick leave and other forms of overtime abuse."

Clark distributed a report on the employees' earnings for fiscal year 1980, with names deleted, which showed that one officer earned more than $10,000 in overtime pay; another earned more than $9,000. Other officers earned from $734 to $7,388 in overtime pay.

Firefighters earned between $849 and $4,000 in overtime pay.

Police officers have the option to earn extra income by working special paid details, the manager pointed out, such as directing traffic, or working at "MacDonald's or at dances. This is work that no one else can get. So that reduced overtime doesn't even have to adversely affect the police officers themselves.

"Somehow the message of Proposition 2½ needs to get back to the unions," he reported. "(Sick leave) abuses can no longer continue."

Clark said he has planned the police and fire budget cuts as part of a "two-year strategy" for dealing with Proposition 2½. This year, the town must cut its budget by $600,000, he explained, and next year, by $1 million.

With most of the budget comprised of fixed costs, the town has "surprisingly little room to absorb $600,000 in effective service cuts this year," he reported.

A look at the alternatives to public safety cuts—such as reducing the library and Community Services budgets, already relatively small—shows that the police and fire reductions may prove the least painful for townspeople this year, the manager indicated.

"It would be unfair to reduce the library's operating hours, or its book budget, so that the abuse of sick leave practices can continue," Clark said Friday. "Before we wipe out significant dollars from those smaller budgets, it's important that we knock out waste and inefficiency in the budget."

Last year, town meeting appropriated funds for two additional police officers and firefighters. Those positions were filled, but retirements have brought the departments back down to previous staffing levels—where the manager recommends they remain, at least until 2½ is amended.

"There is no question but the town needs additional police services in particular," Clark reported, "but to provide these additional services we need either additional money or to reduce services somewhere else.

"I am not proposing to cut back on police or fire services," he emphasized, "only to reduce the progress we tried to make this past year."

The manager pointed out that last year, serious crime in Andover was reduced by 20 to 30 percent, without additional police personnel. Increased efficiency and public cooperation will help the department to continue functioning effectively, he added.

Clark told the selectmen he has "no criticism of the quality of the work and effort" of Andover's police officers and firefighters.

"Andover police and fire personnel for the most part are dedicated and capable individuals," he said. "But our gratitude and respect cannot be misused to justify featherbedding, waste and inefficiency."
